THE SUE RYDER FOUNDATION

Charity Registration No: 1052076

FOUNDER:
LADY RYDER
OF WARSAW
CMG, OBE

The Sue Ryder Foundation was established by Lady Ryder during the post-war years after she had been doing social relief work on the Continent. Its purpose was, and is, the relief of suffering on a wide scale by means of personal service to the sick and disabled everywhere, irrespective of race, religion or age, and thus serves as a Living Memorial of all those who suffered or died in the two World Wars and to those who undergo persecution or die in defence of human values today.

At present there are 24 Sue Ryder Homes in Britain already open or in the course of being established with many more, including medical teams, in countries overseas. In 1987, the first Home was opened in Scotland at Binny House, Ecclesmachan, West Lothian and a further one was opened at Marchmont, Greenlaw, Berwickshire in the late of 1989. Hopefully, still more will be established. The patients cared for by the Foundation include those with cancer, both convalescent and terminal, those with Huntingtons disease, the physically handicapped, the elderly, and the mentally ill. Domiciliary visiting bereavement counselling and respite care are also undertaken from some Homes. Help is desperately needed, whether by way of a legacy, deed of covenant or donation in finance or kind. Also, the Foundation will be pleased to advise companies whose employees wish to contribute via the Give As You Earn Scheme.

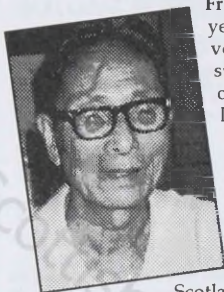

Please write for further information to:

A CHRISTIAN BASED CHARITY

Catholic China?

Fr Stephan was a seminarian for 51 years. Only prayer and faith kept his vocation alive after the enforced closure of his seminary. Yet after decades of persecution he was finally ordained last year.

Petrus is one of more than 1,500 young men training to be priests in China today. He studies in one of the few seminaries, living in primitive conditions. The day after his ordination he will probably become the only priest for an area the size of Scotland.

These two faces of Catholic China show the suffering and hope of a Church where the blood of modern martyrs is bringing new life. There are over 60,000 conversions each year with hundreds of religious vocations.

Aid to the Church in Need is already at work: helping seminarians and sisters, providing Child's Bibles and prayer books, rebuilding destroyed churches. Can you help us to offer hope to China's courageous Catholics? Please give whatever you can afford - and pray for Fr Stephan and Petrus.

CORRYMEELA

BUILDING FOR PEACE IN NORTHERN IRELAND

Working to heal the hurts of 25 years of violence

CORRYMEELA is a dispersed Christian community which feels itself called to be an instrument of God's peace. It works to break down barriers and build bridges between individuals and groups: "If Christianity has nothing to say about reconciliation then it has nothing to say" (The Revd Dr R R Davey, OBE, founder of Corrymeela).

CORRYMEELA LINK based in Great Britain, seeks to spread the vision and support the work of the Corrymeela Community: it needs your help if this aim is to be realised.

Please support us with your prayers especially on CORRYMEELA SUNDAY which is held annually on the Sunday before St. Patrick's Days.

Notes

Postal addresses: It is to be noted that in Scotland the names of the historic counties no longer form part of postal addresses. It is to be noted also that the names of the local authority areas are not part of postal addresses unless they are the names of post towns. In Dumfries and Galloway, however, and in Highland it has been felt appropriate in some cases, because of the very size of the local authority areas, to give a closer indication of the locations in which the parishes are to be found.

Vigil-Mass: This term donates a Mass fulfilling the Sunday or Holy Day obligation and celebrated the previous evening. All other Sunday or Holy Day Mass times are for the day itself.

-  —the church/chapel has a loop aerial for hearing aid users.
-  —the church/chapel has easy access for wheel-chair users.
-  —the church/chapel has easy access for wheel-chair users and adapted toilet facilities for disabled people.

Catholic Schools: The printing without brackets of the name of a local authority school in a parish entry indicates that the school is situated within the parish. The printing of the name of a local authority primary school within brackets indicates that the parish, at least in part, falls within the official catchment area of the school even though the school is situated outwith the parish.

FROM THE RESTORATION OF THE HIERARCHY IN 1878
TO THE PRESENT DAY

The Apostolic Letter Ex supremo of Leo XIII, 4th March 1878, divided Scotland into the Province of St. Andrews and Edinburgh with a Metropolitan See and four Suffragan Sees of Aberdeen, Argyll and The Isles, Dunkeld, and Galloway, and the Archdiocese of Glasgow directly subject to the Holy See. The Apostolic Constitutions Maxime interest and Dominici gregis of Pius XII, 25th May 1947, erected the Archdiocese of Glasgow into a Province, with a Metropolitan See and two Suffragan Sees of Motherwell and Paisley.

A pamphlet entitled Diocesan Map of Scotland, showing maps of each of the dioceses of Scotland, was published by The Mercat Cross in 1953.

THE PROVINCE OF
ST. ANDREWS AND EDINBURGH

The Province of St. Andrews and Edinburgh consists of the Archdiocese of St. Andrews and Edinburgh and the four Suffragan Sees of Aberdeen, Argyll and The Isles, Dunkeld, and Galloway.

ARCHDIOCESE OF ST. ANDREWS AND EDINBURGH

*The bishops associated with Kinrhimund, St. Andrews, had assumed ecclesiastical primacy in Scotland from Dunkeld by the beginning of the tenth century. The last of the Celtic bishops died in 1093; the line of the medieval bishops began in 1109 but the Church and the bishopric were not securely established until 1144. The independence of the Scottish Church from the metropolitan claims of the archbishops of York was established by Celestine III with the Bull Cum universi, 13th March 1192. St. Andrews was erected a Metropolitan See by Sixtus IV, 14th August 1472. The See was vacant from the execution at Stirling on 6th April 1571 of John Hamilton (1547-1571) until the restoration of the hierarchy in 1878.*

The Bishops' Conference of Scotland is the permanently constituted assembly of the Bishops of Scotland. To promote its work the Conference establishes various agencies, the most important of which are termed Commissions. Priests other than bishops, religious and lay people are included in the membership of these agencies. The agencies have an advisory function in relation to the Conference; each, according to its remit, may also have an executive function; and, between meetings of the Conference, an agency may respond to an immediate problem by taking decisions or issuing a statement in its own name.

THE COMMISSIONS

It is the common function of all the Commissions to advise the Bishops' Conference and to promote development within the area of concern of the remit given to each. The Conference appoints a Bishop President and all members of each Commission. Members of secretariats, committees etc. which assist the work of a Commission are not necessarily members of the Commission itself.

Christian Doctrine and Unity

This Commission comprises a Doctrine Section and a Unity Section, the latter being an extension of the former and including other priests, religious and laity who have had wide experience in ecumenical affairs. The remit of the Commission includes Catholic Doctrine, Moral Theology and Canon Law; ecumenical relations with other Christian Churches and dialogue with those of other faiths and with unbelievers.

Deaneries:

Deaneries are structures whereby the Diocesan Bishop can exercise his ministry in a more effective way. They are therefore smaller areas allowing more localised pastoral and administrative action, in harmony with the diocesan vision and planning.

Deaneries are placed under the care of a dean who is to assist the Diocesan Bishop in his ministry. Each deanery also has a deanery co-ordinator who works with the dean and the deanery co-ordinating team at local level and the diocesan bishop and his pastoral team at the diocesan level. Deaneries therefore form an integral part of the diocesan structure.

PERSONAL PRELATURE OF THE HOLY CROSS AND OPUS DEI

Personal Prelatures are juridical structures of a secular character governed by a Prelate and erected by the Holy See to carry out specific pastoral or missionary activities. The general norms on personal Prelatures are contained in the Code of Canon Law—canons 294 to 297. Each has its own statutes approved by the Holy See. Opus Dei is a personal Prelature, international in its scope, which aims to spread throughout all sectors of society a deep awareness of the universal call to sanctify and apostolate in the fulfilment of one's ordinary profession or job. It is formed by a Prelate with his own clergy and by lay people men and women, who in virtue of a divine vocation freely join the Prelature.

SECTION III

OBITUARIES 1997

Rev. Thomas Finbarr Ryan - 5th January 1997

Reverend Thomas Finbarr Ryan, retired parish priest of Our Holy Redeemer's Parish, Elderslie, died in St. Francis' Nursing Home, Glasgow after a long illness. His Funeral Mass was celebrated at the Church of Our Holy Redeemer, Elderslie on 9th January 1997. The Principal Celebrant and Homilist was Bishop John Mone of Paisley. Father Ryan is buried in the Priests' Plot at St. Conval's Cemetery, Barrhead.

Thomas Ryan was born in Johnstown, County Kilkenny on 13th August 1925. He was the son of Thomas and Annie Ryan (nee Bergin). His father was the local Headmaster. He had four brothers (one of whom John, is also a priest) and two sisters (one of whom, entered religious life).

He was educated at St. Kieran's Secondary School where the students would have the odd dig about Tom's father being the local headmaster. He entered St. Kieran's Seminary in September 1944. Tom's uncle was President of the College for most of his student days, but, despite this, Tom was very much liked by all. He is well remembered for his prowess at hurling

Tom originally signed up for the Archdiocese of Glasgow, but at the creation of the Western Province in 1947 he transferred to Paisley and it was for that Diocese he was ordained priest at St. Kieran's Kilkenny on 4th June 1950.

On his arrival in Scotland his first appointment was to St. Laurence's, Greenock. St. Laurence's was a very large and busy parish with a great tradition. The Church had been destroyed in the Greenock Blitz and the arrangements for the celebration of Sunday Mass were quite makeshift. But Tom threw himself into the parish world. He loved the Legion of Mary and the St. Vincent de Paul Society and all the other parish activities.

In his 18 years at St. Laurence's Tom saw many changes, from the building and opening of the beautiful new church in 1954 to the beginning of the great exodus of parishioners to the large new housing schemes in the western part of Greenock in the mid and late 60's.

In 1968 he was transferred to St. Mary's, Paisley, another venerable old parish, in the west end of the town. Here he stayed until 1974 when he was appointed parish priest of Our Holy Redeemer, Elderslie.

This was a change of scene for Tom as Our Holy Redeemer's was a small and still recently established parish. He loved it there and the people loved him and responded to his various initiatives in establishing a prayerful atmosphere and in his various fund raising activities.

Tom enjoyed his weekly game of golf with his priest friends, being possessed of a lovely 300 yard drive. His other "weakness" was a game of cards, especially Bridge, and he was a little impatient of any partner who made a stupid blunder. He was fond of a flutter and was always looking for ways to beat the bookies. He was so successful in this that eventually they stopped taking his bets.

While in Elderslie, Tom became involved in Charismatic Renewal and he was the driving force behind the establishment of St. Vincent's Hospice for the dying in Johnstone. But in the late 80's his own health began to fail and in 1988 led to his retirement.

When his health had improved slightly he went to stay at St. Bernadette's Erskine where he lent a hand until even this became too much for him. He spent much time now in the church at his prayers and devotions, and was noticed by the children as the priest "who was always in the Church".

These years of illness were very difficult for Tom. At first he was impatient because he thought God's call would come soon, but his heart was too strong for that to happen quickly. God only knows how many souls he saved through those years of patient suffering. He was sustained by the thought that he had a vocation to suffer and by his devotion to Our Lady, especially to Our Lady of Fatima. He was an active member of the Marian Movement of Priests and spoke well of his understanding of Our Lady in the life of the Priest and of the message of Fatima. One regret must have been that he never managed to visit Fatima.

He moved to the Little Sisters of the Poor Home in Greenock before recurring illness led to him being transferred to Bridge of Weir Hospital. Latterly he was in St. Francis' Nursing Home in Glasgow. Tom sent out a number of false alarms in the weeks before his death and quite a few times he was anointed and the prayers for the dying were said. But on Sunday 5th January 1997 Bishop Mone called in to see him at about 9.00pm. Night prayer was recited with Tom's sister, Sr. Maureen, and Sr. Dorothy Paul. As the Bishop was saying the words of Simeon in the Nunc Dimittis, "At last all powerful Master, you give leave to your servant to go in peace", Tom died.

He loved his priesthood and he tried to follow the command of the Ordination Mass to imitate the Good Shepherd, to teach, heal, forgive and love. He reached out to serve others, especially the poor and the marginalised.

May he rest in peace.

Very Rev. Daniel Canon McGuinness - 26th January, 1997

Canon Daniel McGuinness, parish priest of St. Mary's, Haddington, died on 26th January, 1997, aged 71. At his funeral Mass on 31st January, the following homily was delivered by the Right Reverend Dom Donald McGlynn, O.C.R., Abbot of Nunraw.

The Scripture passages we have just listened to were the personal choice of people of different back ground but at one in appreciation of Canon McGuinness. An appreciation which is well expressed in that verse from the Messianic Psalm, You are a priest for ever, a priest like Melchizedek of old. A theme that runs through all our thoughts of Father Dan.

The first reading said that "They who trust in God will understand the truth." From such a trust in God everything else seemed to fall into place in Dan's life.

The second reading described something we all feel to be true in this event, "The life and death of each of us has its influence on others". His gentle influence remains with us.

And the Gospel expresses the Faith we shared with Father Dan, "All who believe in Jesus have eternal life, and he will raise them up on the last day."

Virtue is a man's Everest and those who climb highest are the most worth admiring. Our Canon in his quiet way was far above the foothills.

He was a quiet person but it did not take long to discover the warm and rich personality of the man. In the many traits to his deep character at least three of his particular interests were well known. He had three special loves in a well filled life; his priesthood, Fatima, (which he visited every year), and classical music.

I will not speak of the music except to say it gave a quality to his life whether in the song in his heart to praise God, or in the simple gift of listening and sensitivity which marked his character.

His Priesthood: He was the only child of his mother who died when he was only five years old. But if young Daniel lost a mother, a great loss of which he was not aware until later years, he gained a whole caring family in his extended family and never lacked for love and friendship, grandparents, aunts, extended family, cousins, with some of whom he has had a lifelong close relation.

As is the way in Catholic families the early indications of priesthood are remembered. At his own Baptism the infant imitated the motions of the priest. Little Daniel, as he had just been named raised his hand to bless and baptise the priest. And the old priest remarked, "So you are going to be a priest then!" And in fact that is what he wanted to be from his earliest memories and most of his surviving relatives remember him as nothing else than as seminarian or priest, coming and going to the different families during his holidays.

On the path to the priesthood he made remarkable friends. In a unique way he helped one of these friends along the way. It was during and just after the war and his friend and fellow student Karl Kruger was interned as an alien national. Karl was from a German Jewish family and had to leave the seminary and share the restrictions of other Germans. Daniel took notes at every lecture and regularly despatched them to his friend so that he was able to keep fully abreast of his priestly studies. When at last Karl was able to return to College he was able to carry on as if he had never missed a day. Father Karl Kruger was ordained with his friend in Edinburgh Cathedral on 17th July 1949 and he too gave invaluable service to the archdiocese.

Another friend, ordained that day, was Mgr. Jack Tweedie, parish priest of St. Francis Xavier, Falkirk, who is with us today. These three friends ran the course from junior seminary to Ordination together. And to you too, Monsignor, we offer our sympathy.

A priestly life; in his friends and in his work. Canon McGuinness was a humble and holy man. Preaching in Haddington on one 'Vocation's Sunday' he did not give a pep-talk but humbly told of his own experience and how he could never understand how boys at Blairs with him, who seemed to be far better than himself, did not go on further towards the priesthood.

He loved the liturgical language and kept to his Latin Breviary to the end. He was large-minded, one might say, in actually contributing to the translation of the Patristic Readings into the vernacular for the, post Vatican II, 'Prayer of the Church', as the priest's Breviary is now called. Someone told him of an American translation of Lamentations 2:12! The verse, 'The Children cry to their mothers, where is the bread?' had become, 'The children cry to their mothers, where is the cereal?'. He was highly amused and checked it out in the Greek. "No way", he said.

Fatima: From his early years Canon had a great devotion to Our Lady and pilgrimages were part of his annual round long before coming to Haddington. He made a pledge years ago to visit Fatima every year. His own uncluttered Faith must explain the attraction to the spirituality of Our Lady of Fatima. The simple insistence on the theological virtues of Faith, Hope and Charity as the sure way to sanctity and the daily need for prayer of universal concern and for penance in a troubled sinful world.

He looked forward to these personal visits to Fatima. He planned them with great care and consideration—which does not mean to say that he could not leave it to the last minute to call for Father Michael from Nunraw to do supply in his absence. Certainly he always returned renewed and refreshed as if from a special retreat.

Against that background of pilgrimages to Fatima he had plenty of pastoral experience to fall back on when he discovered that he had a fully fledged annual Pilgrimage in his own parish when he was appointed to Haddington. The Haddington Pilgrimage is, one might say, a very different kettle of fish. He had never experienced anything like the Greek chorus created by Pastor Jack Glass and his company. But to Father Dan the most important consideration was still the same. He did not lose sight of his first priority.

He was once asked in his own Church what he thought of all the changes, probably by someone expecting nostalgia for the Latin liturgy. He thought for a moment. "What changes?" he asked. "When I became a priest many years ago it was for the purpose of saving souls. That purpose is still the same. Nothing has changed." This is 'the priest for ever, like Melchizedek of old'.

The people encountered on pilgrimage whether at Fatima or at Haddington or on life's pilgrimage, were his first concern, people, people, people, the souls remembered each day at the altar, the souls presented to Christ on the Cross. In that priestly vision is the immense suffering of humanity, people craving a gentle word, a consoling gesture, people alone in locked flats, people — children, teenagers, adults, middle-aged, and elderly, far away people brought close by the inhumanity of people killing people, people dying of starvation and epidemics, people driven from their homes, people sleeping in the streets. Christ's words are on the priest's lips, that anguished cry for all humanity, "My God, my God, why have you forsaken us?"

Words and phrases are invented to shield ourselves, as a buffer against disasters and atrocities. After too many horror stories people talk of 'a compassion threshold' and then quickly change the channel on the TV to something without so much suffering. A 'compassion threshold' is a luxury which does not go with priesthood. The priest is another Christ, and Christ died for all.

On the other hand, outside of God, human suffering is not only unbearable but cannot even be faced. No wonder we feel, "I have enough problems of my own. Do not bother me with the problems of the world. Please do not plague me with the burdens of the people in Algeria and Rwanda or other places. They only make me feel more angry, more guilty, and more powerless."

The fact is that outside of God, anxieties of souls, problems of persons, conflicts of peoples can pull us down and destroy our physical, emotional and spiritual health. Outside of God burdens are to be avoided at all cost. That is the challenge to the priest and to each one of us.

There are perhaps two kinds of people. Those who always seem to have a quarrel with God and the way he is running things, and those who have effortlessly come to accept Divine Providence. In Scripture we find all the types. People relating to God, sometimes violently as in the case of Job, sometimes passionately as in the Canticle of Canticles, sometimes taking part in a dialogue as with the prophets. Then there are the Anawin, the poor and anonymous who seem to relate effortlessly to God. In fact effortlessness has nothing to do with it. It is the grace of God.

Father Dan was blessed in that way. "They who trust in him will understand the truth". He had no quarrel with God. Nothing was excluded from the compassion of this priest, and yet it did not overburden him. In Gospel terms we can explain that secret in the grace of seeing the whole mystery of suffering in and through Jesus Christ. God has lifted up all human burdens in the sufferings of Christ and made them the way to recognise his immense love.

Jesus says, "My yoke is easy and my burden is light," but Jesus burden is the burden of all humankind. To be called a priest means being invited to carry the burden of Jesus, to carry the burden of the world. The great mystery is that this very burden is a light burden since it is the burden that makes known to us the unlimited love of God. (Nouwen 124 Seeds of Hope).

Spreading this love of God in his own quiet manner Canon McGuinness has influenced many people, brought them peace and directed them into the ways of prayer and service of others. "The life and death of each of us has its influence on others." He did so without intruding, without obligation, because he was content in himself and free. Unencumbered is the word that comes to mind. His cousin described him on his last return from a holiday. He came off the plane without anything in his hands, with a carefree air, seemingly without a care in the world. Pope John XXIII, just before he died, used to say he had his bags packed and ready to go. Father Dan had no baggage, he had nothing he wanted to pack. He was free, ready to go, ready for the fullness of the unencumbered fullness of life in God.

He will be grieved for by those who were near to him and by the parish who have lost a very patient and caring pastor. But for them and for all of us, if his life means anything it must be a cause of joy. Joy in the Faith to which his life was given. Joy because, in the words of St. Peter, 'This is cause of great joy for you, even though you may for a short time have to bear trials ... when Jesus Christ is revealed ... then you will have praise and glory and honour.... you are already filled with a joy so glorious that it cannot be described, because you believe; and are sure of the end to which your Faith looks forward, that is, the salvation of your souls.' Amen.

Very Rev. Henry Canon Mooney - 4th February 1997

The Very Rev. Henry Canon Mooney, retired parish priest of St. Bridget's, Eaglesham, died unexpectedly on 4th February 1997 after a short illness. His Funeral Mass was celebrated in the Church of St. John the Baptist, Port Glasgow on Monday 10th February 1997. Bishop John Mone of Paisley was the Principal Celebrant and Homilist. Canon Mooney is buried in the Priests' Plot at St. Conval's Cemetery, Barrhead.

Henry Mooney was born in Port Glasgow on July 12th 1923. He was born into a close knit family and a close knit parish community which was very much centred on St. John's Church. The parish has given a large number of priests and religious to the service of the Church, and Canon Harry's brother, Michael is also a priest, in the Archdiocese of Glasgow.

Harry began his education at St. Patrick's Anderston before entering St. John's Primary School in 1931. For his secondary education he attended St. Columba's High School, Greenock ("Peat Road"). In 1940 he entered St. Mary's College, Blairs to begin his studies for the priesthood, moving in 1942, to St. Peter's College, Bearsden. In 1945 fire destroyed the College and the whole community transferred to the Mill Hill College in London. Harry was a bright student and so, in 1946, he was asked to undertake a Licentiate in Sacred History at the recently re-opened Scots College in Rome, and at the Gregorian University. This he achieved in 1950.

Meanwhile on 12th September 1947 he was ordained a priest at St. Aloysius' Church, Garnethill, for the newly created Diocese of Paisley. On his return to Scotland, Harry was appointed to the little parish of Our Lady of Lourdes, Bishopton for a short time before being sent to St. Fergus', Paisley in April 1951. He was to stay at St. Fergus' for the next 17 years, ministering to the people in what was reputedly one of the most difficult of the post war housing schemes created in Scotland.

In addition to his parish commitments, from 1963 Father Mooney was the Bishop's representative on the Catholic Child Care Committee. He was appointed to the National Liturgy Commission on its establishment and assisted, at Diocesan level, with the implementation of the liturgical changes resulting from the Second Vatican Council. In 1967 he chaired the Bishop's Ad hoc Committee to respond to the 1967 Abortion Act.

Harry was a keen golfer and a member of the Clergy Golf Society, but he played most of his golf with the members of the extended Mooney family. Indeed he kept in close contact with his family all through his life. He was well read and liked to keep up with his history, enjoying nothing more than a good going discussion about liturgical changes and crises in the Church and how today's problems measured up to the problems faced in the past. Harry was also something of an amateur cook and took great delight in rustling up all sorts of dishes for himself and his colleagues with varying degrees of success. He was a bit of a "book cook" and could never understand why, if you followed the instructions perfectly, things didn't always turn out perfectly. It might be said that he was a wee bit like that with liturgy and theology as well!

In 1968 he began a two year stint at St. Mirin's Cathedral, Paisley before being appointed parish priest of the neighbouring parish of St. James, Paisley in October 1970. In 1974 he moved to St. James', Renfrew where he was to spend the next 13 years as parish priest, before moving to St. Peter's, Paisley in 1987. With the onset of the years, Harry became increasingly deaf in one ear. This could some times make him appear a little gruff as he seemed to ignore people, but he genuinely could not hear. This apparent rudeness worried him greatly as he had no desire to cause offence. Harry was made a Canon of the Cathedral Chapter in September 1990 and because of his failing health, in November of that same year, Bishop John suggested that he move to the small parish of St. Brigid's, Eaglesham. As he had done all his life, Harry was pleased to obey the Bishop, but he was a bit concerned about the weekly family gatherings as the rest of the family might have difficulty finding Eaglesham when it was his turn to be host.

Unfortunately his health continued to decline and in November 1993 he retired to Nazareth House. Here he was perfectly content and was considered by the staff to be a man easily pleased who didn't look for much. The effect of this move was a recovery of some of his former strength and vision. He gladly undertook supply work for his brother priests, including a couple of lengthy placements for priests who were ill, and he was readily available for holiday supply work. He loved being back in the parish again, but without the responsibility of administration.

On the Sunday before he died, the Feast of the Presentation of the Lord, Harry was supplying in St. Mirin's Cathedral and celebrated the 10 a.m. Mass. He spoke to Mgr. McGrory about it being the Golden Jubilee of his Ordination this year and about being invited on the Diocesan pilgrimage to the Holy Land. Sadly, it was not to be. Harry took ill on the Monday and was admitted to the Southern General Hospital where he died peacefully on Tuesday 4th February.

Harry's funeral was celebrated in his beloved home parish, St. John's, Port Glasgow. The Reception of the Body and Prayer Vigil was honoured by the presence of His Eminence Cardinal Winning who had known Harry in his days as a student in Rome.

As a priest Harry was the agent of the Lord's forgiveness and compassion to so many people and he gathered them together for the Eucharist. May he now be gathered to the Lord and receive the Lord's forgiveness and compassion together with the reward of everlasting life.

May he rest in peace.

Rev. Thomas Tierney - 25th February, 1997

Thomas Tierney was born on 14th October, 1915, in Milngavie. He was one of a family of six children, three boys and three girls. He was educated at St. Joseph's Primary School and had his secondary education at Bearsden Academy and St. Mungo's, Townhead. As a youth on the football field he attracted the attention of the football scouts and later played for Maryhill Harp.

His character and outlook were very much influenced by a strict Catholic upbringing in the home. So too did Father Paddy Doyle's influence live with him and had a bearing on his ultimate vocation. After leaving school he went to work in the offices of Jacob's Biscuit Factory. When the Second World War broke out, he and his two brothers volunteered for service in the Tank Regiment serving in the North African Campaign. In the course of time the Regiment became known as the "Desert Rats". Tom rose to the rank of Sergeant.

Unfortunately they were taken prisoners and sent to Italy, and from there to Germany where they "existed" until the end of the war.

It was as a prisoner of war that he came in touch with Father Berry, C.Ss.R. Between them a very significant friendship developed. So much so that when the war ended, he headed for Campion House, Osterley, to begin his remote preparation for the priesthood. From there he graduated to Cardross Seminary. On the 12th June, 1952, he was ordained priest in St. Andrew's Cathedral by the then Archbishop, Donald Campbell. On the testimony of fellow students while at College, he was regarded as one of nature's gentlemen. His first appointment was to St. Patrick's, Anderston, where he enjoyed many years of fruitful apostolate. In later years he talked much of his experiences in that parish.

His relaxation embraced two great loves - supporting the Celtic and playing golf. From both these sporting activities he derived great pleasure, and would talk the night away on either subject.

He held his family in great affection, and he and his brothers and sisters were very close. His one regret was that his parents did not live to see him ordained a priest. His second appointment was to St. Bernadette's, Carntyne, whence having laboured there for some years with great zeal, he was transferred to Our Lady of Lourdes, Cardonald. Wherever he was he won the affection and esteem of all the people.

It must be said of Father Tom that he had a great love for children. The teaching staff would comment on his visits to the school - "It was a treat to see the happy smiling faces of the children when he entered the classroom". This remarkable affection which he had for children, must have surely developed while he served on the Board of Governors at Carstairs Hospital. No wonder that his Will stated that the residue of his estate should go to various children's charities.

His operation during the 70's, to have replacement valves to his heart, influenced his decision to retire in 1983. The first year of his retirement was spent with his life-long friends, Tom and Nola Craddock, in Malahide. Returning to Glasgow he took up residence in St. Conval's, Pollok, where his golfing partner, Father Tom Murphy, was parish priest. Later he accompanied Father Murphy to Corpus Christi parish. As he often said - "I must justify my existence" - his excuse for engaging in parochial activities.

Unfortunately his health was deteriorating and in 1994 he decided to have the care of the Sisters at Nazareth House. His death on 28th February 1997 was not unexpected, but it was peaceful. It was sad for the many friends he had made through the years of his priestly sojourn.

His Requiem Mass in Our Lady of Lourdes Church was a fitting tribute to a great Priest. The Mass was concelebrated by Cardinal Winning, Bishop John Mone, and about 100 priests and was attended by a Church overflowing with people. The burial took place in New Kilpatrick Cemetery in the family plot.

Father Tierney loved life and relished ministering to the people, may he now enjoy the company of God's people in Heaven.

May he rest in peace.

Rev. Thomas Engelen - 9th March, 1997

Father Thomas Engelen, retired parish priest of St. James' in the city of St. Andrews, died on 9th March, 1997, aged 78. At his funeral Mass on 12th March, the following homily was delivered by the Right Reverend Mgr. Anthony Canon McNally, V.G.

I first met Father Tom Engelen in 1959 when he was appointed as the first Parish Priest to the new parish of St. Giles in Kennoway so our association goes back a long time. I was curate in Methil and Kennoway was my visiting district, so I showed him around and handed over my visiting book. I was quite taken aback by his tremendous enthusiasm and his zeal to get going. Of course those were the days when you had to wait a long time to get a parish of your own and I put the enthusiasm down to that. However I discovered very quickly that I was wrong. He was then and remained all his life a very zealous, hard-working priest. We were awaiting a house being vacated which was to become the presbytery in Kennoway but Father Tom was so keen that he put up a makeshift bed in the sacristy and lived there in cramped and uncomfortable conditions until the house was ready.

As you know the roots of Father Tom's family were in Holland but he was born in a little village called Pilling in Lancashire in 1918. He was the ninth child of a family of thirteen, and four of the family tried their vocation, two for the priesthood and two for the religious life. In fact one became a priest and one a sister who sadly died in 1961. These facts give us an insight into the Engelen home, obviously a place of deep faith, and Father Tom's vocation was nurtured in that atmosphere. The family moved here to Blackburn and Fr. Tom went to St. Mary's Secondary School in Bathgate. From there he went to Blairs, then on to the Grande Seminaire at Coutances, a Norman diocese with a long connection with Scotland. In fact one of its bishops in the 16th century was a Bishop Leslie, the confessor of Mary Queen of Scots. Scottish seminarians had trained there since the 1920s.

Because of the war the seminary was evacuated to Bordeaux in 1939 but in 1940 with the bombardments and ravages of war the students were forced to escape. They managed to board a ship, having lost all their belongings. They eventually arrived home, continued their studies and Fr. Tom was ordained in 1943 in the Cathedral in Edinburgh. His first appointment was to St. Andrews and took in much of the East Neuk of Fife. This meant travelling on bicycle to Crail and Pittenweem for Mass and also to catechise the children. Father Tom's work in the East Neuk left a deep impression on the faithful. Later he worked in parishes in the Borders, Fife and Edinburgh until he was appointed Parish Priest in Kennoway in 1959 where he remained for ten years when he was appointed Parish Priest of St. Andrews where he had begun his priestly life. He retired from there in 1987 due to ill health after several heart attacks and suffering from severe arthritis. He retired to Edinburgh but was happy to return to Fife, where he had worked for over thirty years and now continued to work in Leven helping the local Parish Priest who was covering several parishes.

It is relatively easy to sum up someone's life in a few paragraphs without giving a clue to the vision, the drive, the commitment, the joy and the suffering which made up that life. But if I say to you that after fifty years as a priest and often in a fair bit of discomfort and pain Father Tom was still trotting around to St. Peter's in Leven to say Mass, and did so daily for five years as well as helping with confessions, I am perhaps giving you an insight into the priestly commitment of this man. He still had that same desire to serve the Lord and his people as he had fifty years before.

Among his many talents Father Tom had a remarkable memory. He could name the streets and the numbers of the houses where he visited parishioners many years before. He was a "Bon raconteur" with a fund of stories which he would often tell in a Lancashire accent. He had a great love for music and had an excellent collection of classical music. He was also a man of great artistic and creative abilities which was seen more than anywhere else in his gardening expertise. I remember when he arrived in Kennoway, the new church was surrounded by a huge piece of ground which was an absolute wilderness, and he asked me what would you do with it. I suggested that he tarmac it over and make tennis courts. But within a couple of years there was the most beautiful garden, with masses of flowers and colour, a sheer delight to the eye. And always his church was beautifully bedecked with flowers. It was a creative gift which brought great pleasure to many people. He won several awards and in 1966 he won the Britain in Bloom competition for the best church and surrounds in Fife. One priest called it the apostolate of the flowers.

"I saw a new heaven and a new earth" we read in our first reading - a vision of what could be and would be. I think that Father Tom's closeness to nature and creation in the garden gave him a vision that informed and inspired his whole priesthood. It gave him a vision of what his flock could become and should become. Anyone working with the soil knows failure, disappointment and frustration but they also know the potential, the value of perseverance, the need for hard work. The lessons that Father Tom applied in the garden he applied in his priesthood in his service of his people. He knew the needs of his flock and he served them with great perseverance and commitment and hard work. "I am the vine and you are the branches.

Every branch that does bear fruit he prunes to make it bear even more. Cut off from me you can do nothing". Father Tom's own roots were in his prayer life and his closeness to God. And in spite of indifferent health for much of his life he continued to work in the Lord's vineyard and bore fruit in his own life as well as in the lives of his people.

For the last two or three weeks Father Tom was quite ill and in great distress and he died last Sunday morning having said Mass on the Saturday. During his illness he was nursed and cared for by his ever faithful housekeeper Teresa, who though herself retired, looked after him. He told me on his golden jubilee that if he had survived that long it was due to the care and devotion of his housekeeper, Teresa.

I would like to take this opportunity of thanking Teresa for her loyalty and service. To Father Tom's sisters, Renee and Dorothy and to his many nieces and nephews I would like to convey my sincere sympathy on your loss.

But while we are all saddened by our loss, I think, this morning, we want to thank God for the life and the priesthood of Father Tom Engelen. We wouldn't and we couldn't keep him from the Lord he loved and served all his life. May he rest in peace.

Very Rev. Daniel Canon O'Leary - 12th March, 1997

A cursory glance through the general run of obituaries over the years should convince anyone that the real worth of a priest cannot be judged from the amount of space given to him in these pages. In charity to the man and the writer, please have this thought continually in mind if you decide to read on from here.

A man of imposing physical stature, Daniel O'Leary was never in any way obtrusive. So that he may rest comfortably in the company of the priests being remembered with him this year, it is to be hoped that this small tribute will suit his truly unassuming nature and be neither too long nor too short.

He was, as Cardinal Winning pointed out at the Funeral Mass, one of that long list of Irish priests who left home and family to serve the interests of the Catholic Church in Glasgow, and to whom the Glasgow Diocese would remain eternally grateful. This gratitude should extend not only to the priests but to the seminaries that formed them, and in particular to the Catholic homes that produced them and paid for their passage, sometimes from meagre enough resources, through their secondary and seminary education.

Daniel O'Leary was the third child of a family of seven, born 29th April, 1915 at Millstreet, Co. Cork. Two of his four sisters became nuns, both of whom at this time of writing are still alive. Sr. Mary Simplar, Holy Cross Missionaries, is still in Zambia having spent fifty-five years in Mongo. Sr. Maureen, Franciscan Missionaries of Mary, spent forty years in India and is now, in rather poor health, living in Dublin. Having passed through St. Brendan's Secondary in Killarney, Daniel went on to All Hallows Seminary in Dublin and was ordained there on 23rd June, 1940, which was, of course, during the Second World War. Although the country maintained its neutrality, the war had a deleterious effect on Irish Seminary life, which was harsh enough even at the best of times - an appropriate preparation for the rigours of war-time Glasgow and for the toughness of some of the parish priests he would serve under.

For the next twenty-six years he served as an assistant priest in four different parishes in and around the centre of the city. One thing that the more desperate descendants of the Irish Catholic diaspora got to know very quickly was which priests coming newly from Ireland were "soft touches" and which were not. Most were of the former kind but Dan would have been on his own at the top of the list. He was a humble and generous man and from his earliest days as a priest could not help rushing - some would say headlong - to the financial help of anyone in need. It is not unusual, even today, to meet people who received from him that initial 'lift' that made all the difference to their lives and for which they remained profoundly grateful.

His first appointment as parish priest came in 1966. It was his first venture into an out-of-city parish and he enjoyed the country atmosphere of St. Mark's, Alexandria, to the full. He was sorry to leave there after only four years but he could not have done better than to find himself in St. Paul's, Shettleston, where he had a new church and a large villa-type chapel-house surrounded by an acre and a half of grounds laid out with trees, shrubs, lawns and garden, to say nothing of the company of two young energetic curates. St. Paul's was already doing well in implementing Vatican II and Father Dan concurred heartily with every new initiative. Change could not have been easy for priests of his generation. He must have felt that the increasing role of the laity was often at the expense of the role of the priest. A man who some would have regarded as having, at one time, a definite 'them and us' mentality, mellowed perceptibly in his attitude to non-Catholics and those married to non-Catholics. He was sought out as a confessor and later in life was happy to count a number of Ministers as close personal friends and one in particular, the Rev. John Graham, whom he would like no doubt to have a mention here.

The pattern of his future life as parish priest was no doubt set in St. Paul's. His complete dedication to his priestly duties, willingly and devoutly performed, was evident for all to see - as was his concern for and generosity towards all the different groups in the parish. The Christmas parties for the senior citizens, especially when he became one himself, were on a scale never seen before.

His Irish country soul responded to the sizeable grounds around him. These he attended with real delight and, in a late Spring evening, if you were interested, he could point out with his torch every bird's nest in the grounds and give the history of each.

He probably thought, as most of his parishioners thought, that he would end his working days in Shettleston but, at the age of 68, he was changed to St. Anne's in Dennistoun. He accepted the change obediently as one would expect of him and so, after thirteen years in St. Paul's, he moved out to take up his new charge accompanied by his faithful housekeeper of all his time in Shettleston, Patricia Cumming. After seven years in St. Anne's, during which time he was made a Canon, he was asked to become Chaplain to the Little Sisters of the Poor, then at Garngad. He was delighted with his life there and was even happier when St. Joseph's moved to the brand new building at Robroyston. The memory of him is still fresh among the Sisters and the residents of St. Joseph's with whom he established a wonderful rapport. Their spiritual needs always promptly and willingly attended to, they remember especially his deep personal love of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament.

He retired in St. Joseph's in October 1995 and not long after that his health began to deteriorate. His illness necessitated many trips to and from Stobhill Hospital. He was surrounded all the time with the love and affection of the Sisters and the good residents of St. Joseph's and he received remarkable attention from sections of staff of the hospital when he was there. Everyone took to him.

He had become someone special. He died peacefully in the Little Sisters on Wednesday 12th March 1997. The Funeral Mass was in St. Anne's and his remains were taken to Ireland for interment in the family plot at Cullen, Co. Cork.

It is possible, even probable, that Dan O'Leary never thought himself particularly good at anything. He was a member of Cawder Golf Club for over 50 years and was a regular there until his health gave up.

He enjoyed playing the game as much as the walk in the country. Golf rage was never in his make-up. He used to laugh heartily at his own sometimes woeful efforts on the greens. The flags at Cawder flew at half mast when he died.

He had a hearty laugh and an infectious one, and the way he laughed at his own misfortunes and tribulations made you feel that there was nothing in life really that you needed to worry about.

Certainly money and possessions meant nothing to him; how frankly he would talk about his final disposal of these just days before he died.

His one desire was to be a priest and all who knew him would agree that he was very, very good at that. His spirit of real Christian generosity and service enriched our Diocese.

Let him rest with these words of Ps.130 in which some see described the classic, basic, Christian attitude

*"O Lord, my heart is not proud nor haughty my eyes.
I have not gone after things too great nor marvels beyond me.
As a child has rest in its mother's arms
even so my soul."*

May he rest in peace.

Very Rev. Thomas Canon Hearty - 17th March 1997

The Very Reverend Thomas Canon Hearty, retired parish priest of St. John Bosco's, Erskine, died unexpectedly on 17th March 1997. His Funeral Mass was celebrated in the Church of St. John Bosco, Erskine on 21st March 1997. Bishop John Mone of Paisley was principal celebrant and homilist. Canon Hearty is buried in the Priests' Plot at St. Conval's Cemetery, Barrhead.

Thomas Hearty was born in Coatbridge on 17th October 1917, a native of St. Augustine's Parish. At the age of 14 he entered St. Mary's College, Blairs, before being sent to continue his studies at the Pontifical Scots College, Rome in 1935. Tom only did five years in Rome for, having gained his licence in Philosophy, his Theological studies were interrupted by the outbreak of the Second World War. Italy's entry into the War in 1940 led to the evacuation of the students and the closure of the College for the duration of hostilities. He completed his education at St. Peter's College, Bearsden and is remembered by his younger contemporaries as a very kindly and benevolent senior student. He was ordained a priest for the Archdiocese of Glasgow in St. Andrew's Cathedral, Glasgow on 29th June 1942.

His first appointment was to Our Holy Redeemers, Clydebank. He was there for two years before moving to St. Charles', Paisley where he was to spend the next 22 years of his priestly life. St. Charles' was a large and very busy parish which involved the care of the Royal Alexandra Infirmary.

At the division of the Archdiocese of Glasgow in 1947, Tom became a priest of the Diocese of Paisley and as well as his parish duties he began a long association with the work of the Diocesan Pilgrimage to Lourdes in the role of Director of the Pilgrimage. He was an outstanding organiser and established the Pilgrimage on a firm footing. He relished the opportunity to encourage devotion to Our Lady to whom Tom himself had a great devotion, particularly in the Rosary. On the Pilgrimage his rendering of the acclamations at the great Processions in Lourdes made of him a legend in his own lifetime with the Sanctuary authorities. He was still warmly remembered by those responsible for the Liturgy long after he had ceased to have any active role in the Pilgrimage and, much to his delight, was greeted warmly by them when he returned to Lourdes to celebrate his Golden Jubilee in 1992.

Tom was known as "big Tam". He had a great booming voice which he used to great effect in speaking and in singing. It was rarely difficult to persuade him to sing his party piece "Old man river". He enjoyed company, especially any clerical gatherings whether liturgical or social, and even in retirement he came along to any meeting and study days which were organised for the priests of the Diocese. It was said of him that he was Hearty by name and hearty by nature.

Tom's party piece was "Old man river" but his theme tune could have been "Getting to know you, getting to know all about you". He was so open himself that he found it quite natural to keep on asking questions. He was fascinated by people and he loved to know who you were and to whom you were related and how your family tree worked out. This went far beyond a casual curiosity. It was a genuine interest and concern for people, and extended particularly to those in need.

In 1966 Bishop Black appointed Tom as parish priest of St. Joseph's, Clarkston where he supervised the construction and opening of the new Church in 1971. In 1974 he moved to St. James', Paisley and in 1980 to St. John Bosco's, Erskine. This was still a relatively young parish, and the Church had only been opened the year before. From 1980-89 Tom also represented the Church on the Education Board of Renfrew District. He was made a Canon of the Cathedral Chapter, but towards the end of the 1980's his health began to suffer and he lost some of his vigour. Finally in 1990 he decided to retire and moved to a Diocesan flat in Wemyss Bay beside the Church of St. Joseph and St. Patrick.

After a while he began to pick up again and he took on supply work to allow priests to get their holidays. Tom had never served in the Inverclyde area before and so he had a whole new group of people to meet and get to know in his own inimitable style. He was very generous with his time for supply work.

He had started to look his age and had slowed up a little latterly, but it was a shock to everyone when news came through that he had collapsed and died while out walking in Wemyss Bay on 17th March. He received the sacraments before being taken to Inverclyde Royal Hospital, but was already dead on arrival.

His funeral Mass was celebrated in St. John Bosco's Church, Erskine on Friday 21st March 1997.

May he rest in peace.

Rev. David McLachlan - 31st March, 1997

Father David McLachlan died on Easter Monday, 31st March 1997 in St. Margaret's Hospice, Clydebank. He passed away peacefully in his sleep at 4.30 a.m. Although his last two days were spent in the Hospice, Father David died an active parish priest who gave his all for the community he served in St. Joseph's.

David McLachlan was born in Dunchattan Street, off Duke Street, on 3rd September, 1932, a member of St. Mary's Parish in Abercromby Street. He was educated at St. Mary's Primary School and St. Mungo's Academy before entering St. Mary's College, Blairs in 1946. He continued his studies for the priesthood at St. Peter's College, Cardross, from 1952 until 1958.

Father David was ordained on 24th June, 1958, in St. Andrew's Cathedral, Glasgow, by Archbishop Campbell. His first appointment was to St. Patrick's, Dumbarton, from June 1958 until October 1959. From there he crossed the Clyde and moved south to work in the parish of Our Lady and St. George, Penilee, where he stayed until 1962. He returned once more to the Dumbarton area to spend three years in St. Joseph's, Helensburgh.

It was in 1965 that he took the decision to join the Missionary Society of St. James the Apostle. This society, founded in Boston, sends priests from English-speaking countries to work in South America. Father David agreed to spend five years working in the missions. He obviously enjoyed his time there as those five years stretched a little and became twenty-one.

After spending time in language school in Lima getting to grips with Spanish he was appointed to the parish of San Ildefonso de Paria, Oruro, in the high Andes. Here he worked with the Quechua and Aymara peoples for ten years. In 1975 he moved from the mountains to the town of La Guardia, Santa Cruz, to work in the parish of Purisima Concepción where he remained for the next eleven years.

From the many stories he told from the pulpit and around the dinner-table it is obvious that he had a great love for the people of Bolivia, a great respect for their culture and their religious faith.

The feelings were obviously mutual. The people of La Guardia named a school in his honour, the "Reverendo Padre David McLachlan Colegio Primario." This was the greatest mark of respect and gratitude they could offer to a man who had shown such great concern for the education of the young people of their town. Also in his memory a legacy has been set up which allows three pupils from the school to go on to college or university each year.

Father David returned to Scotland in 1986, and was appointed as parish priest of St. Laurence's, Drumchapel. There he worked as a considerate and dedicated pastor, trying to build community and showing the same care and love for the people of Drumchapel as he had for the people of Bolivia. During his time in St. Laurence's he was appointed Vicar Episcopal for Mission Awareness and did much to raise the profile of the missions in the archdiocese.

In 1991 Father David took up his final appointment when he returned to the East End of Glasgow to become parish priest of St. Joseph's, Tollcross. It was only a few weeks after his arrival that he discovered he had cancer. He faced this challenge with the same courage and faith that he had always shown throughout his life. He would not lie down to this terminal illness, instead he continued to work and to offer his all for the parish he had been asked to serve. During his time in St. Joseph's he did much to help the parish grow as a community, drawing on his experiences in Bolivia to help the parish. Father David will be remembered in Tollcross as a very caring and compassionate priest. Behind the sometimes gruff exterior there lay a great concern for the people he was asked to serve and a sharp sense of humour. He would make time to listen, to offer advice, to be the friend of those who needed his kindness.

It was during the time of his illness that he felt the need to return to Bolivia. Unfortunately the doctors felt that this would be too great a risk, it might jeopardise his health. The desire never left him and in 1996 he returned to La Guardia, Santa Cruz, to a hero's welcome. David was back among his people once more. La Guardia made him a Freeman of the Town, they named him Hijo Predilecto, most favoured son. While he was there he visited the school named in his honour, he spent time with the people in celebrations and fiestas in his honour. Father David returned to Scotland a happy man.

Father David McLachlan proved himself to be a person of great faith and courage in the face of adversity. Throughout his illness he showed that priesthood is service and sometimes sacrifice too and that both must be accepted. In March of 1997 his health deteriorated quickly and he spent a considerable amount of time in hospital. Through it all he would not give up, he wished to be back in the parish for the celebration of Holy Week. It was during Holy Week of 1997 that he was taken to hospital for the last time. On Holy Thursday evening, just before the Celebration of the Lord's Supper, Father David was taken by his doctor to the Royal Infirmary. On Good Friday he moved from there to St. Margaret's Hospice, Clydebank, where he died on Easter Monday morning at 4.30 a.m.. David's funeral took place on Thursday of Easter Week and he was laid to rest in St. Peter's Cemetery, Dalbeth, in the parish of St. Joseph which he served so faithfully.

Easter, when we celebrate the Lord's resurrection, was a wonderful time for us to let Father David go, even though it might not have seemed so at the time. We are an Easter people, we are resurrection orientated. Let us not grieve like people who have no hope, instead let us pray for Father David with hope in the new life which the Lord Jesus offers.

May he rest in peace.

Very Rev. Anthony Canon McGurk - 29th April, 1997

Canon Anthony McGurk, retired parish priest of Corpus Christi, Calderbank, died in Kiltrea, Co. Derry, Northern Ireland, in the 81st year of his age and the 57th of his priesthood. At his Funeral Mass in St. Joseph's, Blantyre, on 2nd May following, prior to interment in St. Patrick's Cemetery, New Stevenston, the following homily was delivered by the Right Reverend Joseph Devine, Bishop of Motherwell:

The news of the death of Canon Anthony McGurk reached me just after I had returned from the Ad Limina visit to Rome last Tuesday evening, making a sad end to what had been a memorable few days, for our late brother was a man for whom I had a great deal of time. He was one of the most straightforward priests whom I have had the privilege to know, a man with whom you ever knew where you were, someone to whom guile was as foreign as inactivity. Tony McGurk, like his cousins Hugh and Tom, were among the finest priests whom I have ever known. Once there were three; now there are none and the Diocese of Motherwell is much the poorer for their passing.

In Tony's case, that life began on 21st December, 1916 and it began in Gulladuff, Co. Derry. The date was to have another major significance in his life, for it was on that same date in 1940 that he was ordained to the priesthood. But that is to rush the story. After his initial schooling, he entered Derry's famous St. Cohn's College, under its demanding principal, Dr. Neil Farran. But life was to be kinder in other ways, as he met there some young men who were to be his friends for life, like our late V. G., Mgr. Jack Gillen. Then it was off to the senior seminary. In his case it was St. Patrick's, Carlow. Six years later came ordination for the Archdiocese of Glasgow in the first winter of the real war, at a time when things were bleak for a beleaguered Britain and a continent of Europe plunged into the darkness of a world war. Tony's birthday is also the shortest day of the year. Thank God, that was no omen about his life. Nor was his ordination a novelty in his family, a fine family, a big family, one of whom had already been ordained to the priesthood and another of whom was to enter religious life.

In his 48 years of active ministry. Tony only served in five parishes, doing so in four of them for about the same length of time, about or just over a decade. The first appointment was to the fine old parish of St. Cuthbert's in Burnbank, just a few hundred yards down the road from here. A first appointment is usually very memorable for a priest and was so in Tony's case. He had a great affection for the people of Burnbank and would have been happy to have stayed there, with a change of parish priest he once told me, until his time came for such an office. But it was not to be. After eight years he moved to the even older - and much larger - parish of St Patrick's in Coatbridge in 1948. Although the war was over three years by then, things were still tight. Rationing was a fact of life and resources were scarce, especially financial resources. I suppose some things never change! However, with a splendid accomplice and friend, the late Canon Daniel Hennessy, they set about to do the best they could for the people of St. Patrick's, especially the young people. And they had to do so under the leadership of a parish priest who was ill and ageing. Virtually with their own hands they rebuilt for next to nothing except the sweat of their brow the old parish hall that had been closed for some years due to its parlous condition. They gave of their best and received the best in return - the affection and gratitude of the people of the time, not only in St. Patrick's, but also in what is now St. Bartholomew's, founded from St. Patrick's in 1950, the area of St. Patrick's parish which was Tony's district at that point.

But the greatest challenges were yet to come, perhaps the greatest of all for Tony, when he became the founding parish priest of the new town of East Kilbride's second parish, Our Lady of Lourdes, in 1958. Today it is our largest parish. It was scarcely smaller nearly 40 years ago when Tony was assigned to it. As was ever the case, Tony gave it his very best shot, to this day being so very well remembered by those of the original community there whom he served so well, binding them into a unity from diversity, for the great majority of the people were from a whole range of different parishes and communities from Glasgow and beyond. The strength of that parish today is due in no small measure to the firm foundations that he laid for those who would succeed him. Tony, knew that he had no lasting city in East Kilbride or anywhere else for that matter. So, in 1969, after a period of 11 years on the heights of East Kilbride, he came down to the foot of the hill, to here, St. Joseph's in Blantyre, in 1969. And here he was to be extremely happy in what proved to be his longest appointment, for the next 13 years.

I suppose people will remember him best for the building of the new hall to the east of this great old church. Although Tony well knew the value of a hall for the building up of a community, he would have thought that only incidental to his work here. He would have considered so very much important in the longer term the help he gave to Bishop Thomson in finding a site for a new parish, that of St. John Ogilvie's, opened from St. Joseph's in 1977. It gave him much satisfaction to be a crucial part in that enterprise, the additional pastoral support to the people of Blantyre that a new parish would provide, as well as abiding friendship with the Poor Clares in Blantyre and Bothwell.

But the years were taking their toll, even to such a strong man as Anthony McGurk. Much to his regret, but entirely to his way of thinking, he knew that a less demanding pastoral role was needed. So, in 1982, he left Blantyre for Calderbank, a Catholic community of about a fifth of the size of Blantyre. And he was very happy there for the next seven years. Active as ever, he did much to give a significant face-lift to the Church, in every sense of the term, even if, by his own high standards, he was less than fully successful in his modernisation of the church building's interior. But he left a fine legacy there of some modern stained glass windows on sacramental themes.

Maybe those windows were the key to his life and his priestly ministry. He was a sacramental kind of man in everything. The seven sacraments were his working bible. He lived by them and tried to show others that they were God's greatest gift to us, the signs of God's abiding presence to us in the world. Baptism spoke to him of family; confirmation of witness; the eucharist of union with the Lord; marriage and holy orders of commitment; reconciliation of penance and the sacrament of the sick of the time to have one's bags packed and ready to go whenever the Lord called. That was our Tony. Look at the key words: family, witness, discipleship, commitment, penance and fidelity to the end. They were the great themes of his life. They entitle him to the readings at this Mass.

In the first from Isaiah, we hear of a great and eternal banquet which the Lord has prepared on his holy mountain for all who lay hold on the Lord's friendship and love. In other words, we are here speaking of those who lived fully the sacraments of christian initiation, baptism, confirmation and the eucharist, captured by such words as family, witness and discipleship. In the second reading we hear of those whose lives deeply affected others. The words commitment and penance spring to mind. We sometimes fail in our relationships with others. As priests and as parents, we sometimes fail in these. But that is less important than overcoming our failures and showing our commitment to those in our care, pastorally and parentally. Another word for that kind of commitment is love. St. John of the Cross, the great Spanish mystic, was surely right when he said that at the end it is on love, on love alone, that we will be judged. The Lord made it even plainer when he said, "love one another, as I have loved you".

And in the Gospel, the Gospel of the beatitudes, what is the Lord asking of each of us? Fidelity to the end, in the form of poverty of spirit, meekness of attitude, gentleness of soul, purity of heart and perseverance in the face of anything and everything. Can you not see the face of Tony McGurk in all of this?

Finally, on an even more personal note, Canon Tony McGurk was a great realist, never more so than in knowing when to call it a day in terms of his active ministry. Eight years ago he came to see me, just about this time in the year and offered his resignation. He knew that the intimations of mortality were pressing upon him and that the demands of the active ministry were increasingly burdensome. After nearly 50 years of outstanding service, I could do no other than grant him his wish to retire. For the next six years, he was very happy in the little bungalow in Rutherglen, often helping out in parishes at weekends and during the holiday months. But two years ago his most dedicated housekeeper died. Like Canon Tony, Margaret was a workaholic, creating for him a home in which he never had to worry about domestic details - or gardening details either, for she had green fingers as well as, like him, an enormous dedication to the service of the Church. After she died, Tony was never the same again. About a year ago, he told me the reason. He said to me, "I don't mind the cooking, but I hate the washing up". Well, from all the available evidence, on that holy mountain to which the Lord invites all who have proved to be his friends, there will be no cooking to be done, or washing up afterwards.

Anthony, dear brother, go in peace to the kingdom that the Lord has prepared for all those who have proved themselves to be his beloved. Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him. May he rest in peace. Amen.

Rev. William Colbert - 8th May, 1997

Father William Colbert was born at Midleton, Co. Cork, on 19th April, 1920. After studies at St. Colman's College, Fermoy, and St. Kieran's College, Kilkenny, he was ordained priest for the Archdiocese of Glasgow on 18th June, 1944, at Midleton, by Bishop James Roche of Cloyne. He served as assistant at St. Thomas', Riddrie, from then until 1947 when a breakdown in his health advised that he should be transferred to a more rural parish, and he was appointed to St. Martin's, Renton. The following year he was sufficiently recovered to return to the city and he was appointed to St. Robert's, Househillwood. In the following year, however, his health deteriorated so far that he had to return to Ireland, where he lived in retirement for the rest of his life. He died on 8th May, 1997.

R.I.P.

Right Rev. Mgr. Edward Canon Hyland - 11th May, 1997

Mgr. Edward Hyland, retired parish priest of St. Patrick's, Edinburgh, died on 11th May, 1997, aged 86. At his funeral Mass on 14th May in St. Patrick's, the following homily was delivered by Father John Creanor, parish priest of Galashiels.

It may have been a mountain like Croagh Patrick on which Jesus gave the outline of a community that he wished to found, and the type of person he wanted to attract to that community. To-day we honour the memory of one of Ireland's special sons, who tried to live out the ideals of the Beatitudes.

Canon Ned, as he was affectionately known to his colleagues (though he was always just the "Canon" to the parishioners and myself), was born in County Mayo on the 19th August 1911. After studying in Spain (he was very proud of his knowledge of Spanish) - he came home to Ireland and was ordained in Maynooth on 23rd June 1940.

Landing in Scotland after his ordination, he was told to report to the Archbishop, the late Andrew Joseph MacDonald, who gave him the choice of a number of parishes. Listening to a priest who worked in the office, he was told to ask for Canon Birnie and St. Pat's. He loved to share that story with his curates, and of how prophetic that choice was!

For fourteen years he trod round one of the largest parishes in Scotland at that time and he would tell us of the camaraderie of the so called "Irish Guards", (his four fellow Irish curates), and it was here that he learned his greatest pastoral sensitivity.

In 1954 he was sent to the parish of Sacred Heart, Penicuik which he loved and where he spent 12 years - before returning to St Patrick's in 1966.

Canon Hyland had a fantastic memory and could remember families to the third and fourth generations; the only problem was that he expected his assistant priests to have the same recall. "Remember that person, John, whom you baptised six years ago; that person who has died is the great-grand-mother". I heard him say things like that more than once.

"Happy the gentle, happy the pure in heart, happy those who are peacemakers....this was indeed a happy man! He was a happy man with a great and a loud laugh. The Canon could be heard long before he was seen. And he was a superb host - with the dinners he provided on St. Patrick's Day with the assistance of Cathy and Betty being occasions to be remembered.

His great voice boomed all around this church, though listening to the parishioners, I am not sure that they always understood what he was saying. But the joy and the goodness of the man radiated from his face and personality.

One of the huge burdens he had to carry was that of being treasurer of the Archdiocese for 35 years. He spent hours, not only in the office at George Square every day, but when Brian McKean and I occasionally would creep into the house in the small hours of the morning, his light was always burning, poring over books, sending out cheques, and filling in ledgers night after night especially when the auditors were due. I have known that on occasions he was never in bed and yet was up for Mass at 7.30 a.m. and then off again to the office. This happened during the seven years I was with him and for many before I ever came.

His superiors said that he did the work of five men, but sometimes I wished that he had been asked to do the work of only one man - but no doubt there were reasons.

I feel personally privileged to have been part of Canon Ned's possibly finest hour. He was a humble man who never sought the limelight and yet in 1971 the Canon, with two tear-away curates, was asked by the B.B.C to allow a televised live Mass and a Songs of Praise from St. Patrick's. Brian McKean was the conductor and I led the music group, but the whole celebration depended upon the celebrant, the Canon. This was the first Mass ever to be televised where the organ was not the instrument - but rather a lot of "unmentionable stringed things". The Bishops of Scotland were watching with a more than critical eye because it seemed that they did not approve of this type of music nor liturgy. I am not sure that the Canon himself was entirely comfortable with this new-fangled music but he knew the people of St. Pat's loved it and he was therefore prepared to give his all. The people of St. Pat's came first in his life - and he went through that broadcast for them and carried the day.

I think that if you can say of someone you know or have known that the person taught me how to be the person I am to-day, be it teacher, bank clerk, mother, shop assistant or nurse, then you have said a huge amount about that person. For me Canon Hyland taught me how to be a priest. I came here after only four years of priesthood, was very green, with so much to learn. I learned here in this community what it meant to love people, to put yourself out for people, to be at the disposal of people. I learned from this good man what it meant to have loyalty to a Bishop, no matter what was asked of you. I learned what it meant to remember people's names because it meant so much to them when you did. I learned what it meant to love people and to appreciate the love which they returned to you.

Probably more than anything else I was bewildered by the energy of this great priest. After a day in the office, with all the difficulties that could bring, he was round knocking the doors of the Canongate or his favourite Tron Square. He was sorting out family squabbles or separating punch-ups at parish socials. This aspect of his life was something that the Bishop knew little about - but those of us who lived with him and worked with him and loved him knew only too well.

When you see your parish priest visiting the parish after such a day, it has a huge effect on your own ministry. I believe that much of the affection and the love people had for him was due to the fact that he stood in their homes and gave them of his time and energy.

My dear friends, we have gathered to-day to honour the memory of a man who has touched our lives in various ways. It is a touch that we can never forget, not only because of the length of time he was here, but also because of the gentle love he had for everyone. He had time for the rogues of the Grassmarket because he had known them for 20 years - and some of them he had baptised and given their First Holy Communion. He was interested in everyone!

We take our leave to-day of a man, who perhaps was not so well known in the Diocese, unless their books were in the red! But he was known by the people here in Edinburgh who were inspired by his life, not because of what he said but by what he was, and what he radiated. Gentle even in retirement with the same smile and the same memory going back over 57 years of priesthood, Canon Hyland went to the Lord on Sunday morning nearing his 87th year. And he went to the reward I am sure that the Lord has prepared for him - and we hope to prepare for us one day as well.

May God Grant him eternal rest.

Very Rev. Thomas Canon McAteer - 26th May, 1991

Canon Thomas McAteer, retired parish priest of Our Holy Redeemer's, Clydebank, died in the Victoria Infirmary, Glasgow on 26th May, 1997, in the 80th year of his age and the 54th of his priesthood.

He was born in Kinning Park, Glasgow, on 14th December, 1917, and was related to the Father MacDonald who was the model for the fictional Father Chisholm in A.J. Cronin's novel of the missions in China, The Keys of the Kingdom. Tom attended St. Margaret's Primary School in Kinning Park and St. Mungo's Academy, Glasgow, before entering St. Mary's College, Blairs, in 1933, to begin his preparation for the priesthood. He proceeded to the Glasgow Archdiocesan Major Seminary, St. Peter's College, Bearsden, in 1936 for his studies in philosophy and theology, and was ordained priest in St. Andrew's Cathedral, Glasgow, on 29th June, 1943.

His first appointment as an assistant priest was to St. Agnes', Lambhill, where he developed a special interest in Catholic Social Teaching. In 1946 he was transferred to St. Anthony's, Govan, where he remained until 1954, when he volunteered to serve in Her Majesty's Forces under the aegis of the Royal Army Chaplains' Department. He remained an army chaplain until 1973.

On retirement from the forces, he became parish priest of the not long established parish of St. Gildas', Rosneath. It was during this time that he became a confessor to the students and Sisters at St. Peter's College, now at Cardross. In 1916, he was transferred to St. Joseph's, Milngavie, where he saw through the projected abandonment of the original church and presbytery in favour of a redundant Church of Scotland building on the main road and the building of a new presbytery. After some eleven years there, he moved to St. Mahew's, Cardross, where he had the care of the oldest church in the Archdiocese, dating back at least in part to the 6th century. After another two years, he moved to the long-established mother-parish of Clydebank, Our Holy Redeemer's, where he remained until his retirement from parish work in 1992. It was in Clydebank that he was appointed a Canon of the Metropolitan Cathedral Chapter, being installed in 1991. On his retiral in 1992, he became an Honorary Canon of the Chapter, and went to Dundee to undertake chaplaincy work in the Little Sisters of the Poor Convent and Home, Wellburn.

During the later years of his life, he developed an active interest in the work of ACROSS Scotland, which lasted as long as he was able, but still supported it thereafter. He was inveigled into travelling ACROSS to Lourdes as a chaplain once, and he undertook it as a penance, saying afterwards that he had enjoyed it so much that he would have to find another penance! (In this the present writer can certainly homologate the sentiment!)

By 1996 his health had deteriorated so much that he had to give up even the congenial work as chaplain to the Sisters and the Old People and he returned south to reside with his sister in Rutherglen. While there he had to go into the Victoria Infirmary on more than one occasion, and he finally died there on 26th May, 1997.

His Funeral Mass, in Our Holy Redeemer's, Clydebank, was concelebrated by a great number of priests, the principal celebrant being His Eminence the Cardinal Archbishop of Glasgow. The interment took place in St. Peter's Cemetery, Dalbeth.

The following memoir of his time as an Army Chaplain is provided by one of Canon McAteer's senior colleagues in the Royal Army Chaplains' Department, and gives an insight into the dedication which he brought to his priesthood and to everything that he did:

About Tom McAteer, R.I.P. I first met him in a December when he was Chaplain in Cyprus and I had gone out with the 16th Parachute Brigade on a six month emergency. A man of unbounded kindness - he loaned me his brand new Fiat. Often I would find Tom stopped at the side of the road I thought at first he had broken down - No. He was having a cup of tea! He never went out without taking two flasks of tea. His nick-name came from this habit. He was widely known as "Wee Cuppa-T-McAteer"!

In the 1950's he passed the dreaded "P Company" Course of intense physical endurance, and then went on to the R.A.F. Parachute Training School. On his seventh jump he had a very bad landing causing a head-whip and had a worrying time in intensive care. He never fully recovered from this, and suffered many bouts of headaches. Before leaving Cyprus in 1965 he managed to get his eighth parachute descent into the sea south of Famagusta! Although he did not go on to reach the appointment of Principal R.C. Chaplain and V.G., he did become Senior Chaplain (RC) Rhine Army, and the Senior Chaplain, United Kingdom Land Forces. Father Tom was a joy to serve with and was always available generously for young chaplains to glean from his vast experience.

He was renowned as a good preacher and regular broadcaster on the "God Slot!" in the Forces Broadcasting in Cyprus and Gemany.

May he rest in peace.

Rev. Michael Masterson - 5th June, 1997

Father Michael Masterson, assistant priest of St. Peter's, Buckie, and acting parish priest of St. Mary's, Fochabers, died on 5th June, 1997, two days before his 58th birthday in the fourth year of his priesthood. At the Funeral Mass the following homily was delivered by Father Matthew McManus, parish priest of St. Winin's, Kilwinning.

Father Michael Masterson died in St Mary's, Fochabers, on Thursday 5th June 1997 after a long and difficult struggle against a disease of his lungs.

Michael is my friend. Death cannot rob us of friendship. Friendship takes on a new dimension as Michael lives now in the presence of our Loving Father.

We are about the same age and we share the priesthood of Jesus Christ. Being a priest is very precious to me - it is what I am rather than what I do but if I value this gift of God and the Church, it is nothing to the value that Michael placed upon it.

I know that all his life Michael wanted to be a priest. Not out of any sense of glory, but simply to serve. Had it been a quest for glory, the path would have been much easier. Whenever we set about acquiring anything we really want for ourselves in this world we rarely let things get in the way. On the way to priesthood everything that could possibly have gone wrong for Michael did go wrong. I identify no malice in all of this - simply people making the best human judgement they could, and advising Michael that priesthood was probably not for him.

In his youth Michael spoke of priesthood. He was dissuaded - "you are too valuable to your parish. Look at all the things you do here." Perhaps that was said only in kindness, but it was received as somehow being God's will - and that was all that Michael wished to follow - but he never gave up the longing for priesthood.

Michael worked - and worked hard - in insurance. He snatched about fifteen minutes every day from his lunch hour, all that could be spared, so that he could attend at least part of a city lunch-time Mass. Michael's devotion to the Mass was in many ways the bedrock of his life.

Priesthood seemed further away than ever. Michael encountered obstacle after obstacle. I told him what I had been told in turn - If God wills it, it will happen. Michael hung in there with a tenacity that had to be seen to be believed. Studies were the very cross; sermon practice was a nightmare. Old dogs and new tricks had nothing on Michael's journey. The seminary had never met anything like Michael and is probably still recovering.

But he was a holy man and devoted to Mary, the Mother of Jesus.

Bishop Mario Conti offered Michael the Church's gift of ordination. He was ordained Deacon in St Silvester's, Elgin in 1993 and began a happy diaconate ministry assisting Canon MacDonald. Canon MacDonald and Father Eddie Traynor guided Michael to what was the happiest day of his life his ordination to the priesthood in St Mary's College Chapel, Blairs in March 1994.

Shortly afterwards Michael arrived in St Mary's, Fochabers, part of the parish of Buckie.

Michael served his people with a devotion and zeal that is almost unparalleled

His health in recent years was very poor. Major by-pass surgery in Edinburgh gave no more than passing improvement. Continuing lung problems dogged Michael's life making every step an effort. We fought long battles about cigarettes. He agreed with everything I said and then needed a cigarette to calm him down. He got a pin in his ear from an acupuncturist to stop him smoking - and then needed a cigarette to cope with what it cost.

Michael would infuriate you, but it couldn't last. He was always anxious to please - perhaps that trait was the most infuriating to those of us who imagine we are self-sufficient. Michael was kind and loving and misunderstood and conscientious - taking an oxygen cylinder in the car as he went round with Holy Communion - just to give him enough breath to say the prayers - preaching when he could hardly draw breath; a few weeks ago standing holding aloft the Blessed Sacrament at Carfin when even standing must have been almost beyond his ability. But all of these contradictions are Michael.

Michael has died as he would have wished - a priest, a priest serving God's people 'till he drew his last breath

Many of you know Michael far better than I. His brothers and sisters saw him grow to manhood; the people of Bannockburn, the parish in which he was baptised and went to school; the priests of his diocese, Many of you know and experienced his extraordinary ministry far better than I. All of us have memories of Michael. Those memories will contradict one another. Michael is no simple soul .

Michael is a man of great kindness and gratitude. He was well served in the short years of his priesthood in the diocese of Aberdeen. Bishop Conti offered Michael the chance to be a priest and Michael was enormously grateful. Ann Palmer cared for his house and looked after him in his illness. Dr. Tait and the nursing staff of the Fochabers Medical Practice gave Michael the very best of attention and kindness and I know he was grateful.

Nunraw Abbey has a place of real affection in Michael's heart. The monks he counted among his friends. Michael asked me to arrange his burial either there or with his family in Bannockburn. I chose the latter and have arranged that a plaque asking for prayers to be erected in the Abbey chapel. Michael made a detailed will. His first request was that Masses should be offered for his soul. Every priest in Scotland will offer Mass for Michael, every priest in Aberdeen diocese will offer three Masses for him. He is one of our number.

The diocese of Aberdeen and the people of Fochabers have lost a good priest - a priest who served his people 'till he drew his last painful breath. Don't simply mourn him as if to deprive him of the dearest wish, to be with Jesus and Mary in the presence of the Father, rather rejoice with Michael. He is with God. May he rest in peace.

Very Rev. John Canon Haran - 6th June 1997

The Very Reverend John Canon Haran, retired parish priest of St. Patrick's, Greenock, died in Ireland on 6th June 1997 after a short illness. His Funeral Mass was celebrated in St. Patrick's Church, Maugherow. Bishop John Mone of Paisley was Principal Celebrant. Canon Haran is buried in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Maugherow.

John Haran was born in Glasgow on 8th January 1910. After attending Our Lady & St. Mark's Primary School, Alexandria, he began his secondary education at St. Patrick's High School, Dumbarton before going to St. Mary's College, Blairs, in 1924.

In 1929 he was sent to study at the Royal Scots College, Valladolid, and was ordained priest for the Archdiocese of Glasgow in the Cathedral of Valladolid on 30th May 1936.

After a short term appointment at St. Mary's, Abercromby Street, he moved to St. Thomas', Riddrie where he remained until 1940 when he was transferred to St. Mirin's Church, Paisley. He served at St. Mirin's for ten years before being appointed to Our Lady of Lourdes', Bishopton in 1950. In 1959 he became Chaplain to the Convent at St. Vincent's, Langbank.

His first appointment as parish priest was to St. Fillan's, Houston in 1961. The parishioners there were convinced that John must have had nine lives. He survived two serious falls in St. Fillan's. Once, when, in his usual do-it-yourself manner, he was repairing the church roof and fell to the ground in full view of the people waiting for a bus in Main Street. Another time he was doing some work above the Altar and fell onto the Sanctuary. He had great powers of recovery.

Throughout his ministry John retained his sense of wonder and his inquisitive mind. He was a Fellow of the Royal Philosophical Society of Glasgow and loved to read and debate philosophy. He was very proud of being the oldest surviving member and rarely missed a meeting coming over to Glasgow several times a year to attend their gatherings.

John had some unusual hobbies and ideas, like wanting to bore a hole through to the earth's crust to provide central heating and maintained, against all comers, that this was possible and practical. In his retirement, he gathered seaweed and once tried to start a factory near his home. He was a great believer in the potential of the seaweed industry having already used it to produce iodine paint and even tooth paste. The toothpaste didn't catch on as it wasn't quite to everyone's taste. He believed in the curative and medicinal power of seaweed and was very knowledgeable about illnesses and cures. However vandals destroyed the factory he was building and all his equipment, and even John lost heart after that. He did his own car maintenance and loved to drive his (usually battered, old) car all over Europe. He was a frequent visitor to his alma mater, the Royal Scots College in Spain and a conscientious attender at the College re-unions. In fact, he loved any meetings of priests and Diocesan events for which he frequently returned to Scotland.

John was very happy in Houston where he remained until 1972 when he moved to St. Patrick's, Greenock. After three years at St. Patrick's he retired to Doonsaskin, Ballinfull, Co. Sligo, Ireland. He became an Honorary Canon of the Cathedral Chapter.

He loved his house by the sea. Bishop Mone, who stayed with him a few months before he died, said it was one of the most beautiful views of the sea he had ever seen. He became well known in the local community giving assistance to the elderly parish priest there celebrating a daily and Sunday Mass and ministering to the housebound. He also helped out in the neighbouring parish of St. Molaise in Grange. For a man who was very shy and who did not make friends easily, he became very well known and was held in high esteem by the local community.

John was a dog lover and took into his house all the stray dogs, at one time having twelve dogs in his house.

He had a quiet sense of humour usually with stories about his own adventures in his car or about his trips abroad. Like the time he went to the English College at Valladolid to visit a priest friend who was on the staff there. John arrived unannounced at the door and asked to see Father "N". The priest who opened the door said "Of course" and led him into a room where his friend was laid out in his coffin having died the day before John arrived. Needless to say John hadn't heard the news that his friend had died.

John's nine lives continued to hold good, as a year before he died he had a car accident in Co. Sligo. His car hit a tree and John was left suspended by his seat belt, upside down for a considerable length of time. Of course, the local people were not at all surprised and this only "enhanced" his reputation as a dare-devil driver!

Despite the accident and a spell in hospital, John quickly signed himself out for he had a very important journey to make. The Royal Scots College in Spain had transferred from Valladolid to Salamanca and the College, had been completely refurbished. The new College, was to be officially opened and solemnly blessed and he said he wouldn't have missed this event for the world.

It was his last big outing as his health now started to decline, He went into Nazareth House in Sligo when he needed extra care and attention. He died peacefully after a short illness on 6th June 1997.

Bishop John went over to Ireland for the Funeral at which about twenty priests concelebrated, including his cousin from Grange, Mgr. Kinsella and Canon James Sheehan from Paisley Diocese. He was buried in St. Patrick's Cemetery, close to the Church in which he had often prayed and offered Mass during his long and fruitful retirement.

May he rest in peace.

Very Rev. Patrick Joseph Canon Brady - 7th August 1997

Canon Pat, as he was known familiarly, was born on the third of November 1913, one of five children, three sons and two daughters, their parents being respectable farming folk and the farmstead being a mile or so from the very quaint little village of Butlersbridge. The centre-piece of it is a fine stone gothic church, within the Cathedral parish of Cavan and in the Diocese of Kilmore.

Pat had his primary education in the local school, then on to Saint Patrick's College in Cavan as a day pupil. He graduated here and then to Saint Patrick's, Carlow, and was ordained for the Archdiocese of Glasgow on 9th June, 1940, feast of Saint Columba. It was a happy day for the Brady parents and family, so strongly committed to the Rosary, the Mass and the Sacraments.

On arrival in Glasgow the tall, handsome friendly, newly ordained priest, with strong Cavan accent, was appointed to Saint Bridget's, Baillieston. It was wartime and entry through customs etc, was none too comfortable.

About Baillieston, Pat always spoke with special affection, particularly about his first introduction to Celtic Park, by his parish priest, a Father McGrory, I think. His keen interest in Celtic and in boys' football took off from here. His later appointments were Saint Luke's, Gorbals, Saint Mary's, Duntocher and Saint Saviour's, Govan.

In all parishes he wholeheartedly devoted himself to the service of the people, applying plenty of wit and charm if not real blarney.

In 1965 the idea was conceived of nearby Pollokshields becoming a separate parish and Pat Brady was appointed first parish priest, Saint Margaret's Kinning Park, Holy Cross and St. Mary Immaculate, Pollokshaws, being the Mother parishes. The impressive Church of Scotland Church in Albert Drive was acquired and a flat three up and opposite. All was ready made. No "greenfield" here. Bishop Ward was parish priest in Holy Cross and he helped manipulate a generous dowry for the infant parish from Canon McCarthy, a well known financier. With generous helpings from Holy Cross and, St. Mary Immaculate, Pat's parish augured well for the future. A few years later a permanent, well planned Presbytery was built, also in Albert Drive diagonally across from the church.

Pat delighted particularly in house to house visitation and curing any nostalgia for the old parishes his flock had loved. With Vatican II, "Opening the windows", the parish priest and local Church of Scotland Minister visited all families of both denominations. Ecumenism was taking over, what was a sin before, now Mother Church blessed. Many a barrier was broken down, misunderstandings thawed away and off the field game of old rival fans was laughter and good humour, mostly. "He never had a job" declared Bishop Renfrew once at a funeral liturgy for a priest, well Pat's job was his parish.

Father John McQuade replacing Father Thomas Winning at the marriage tribunal giped with Pat, when Thomas Joseph, now auxiliary Bishop and later Archbishop, becomes Cardinal they would have to attend. Many a true word is indeed spoken in jest and Pat lived to see the day. Perhaps it was during that memorable week in the Eternal City we first noticed his failing strength. It was November 1995.

At Christmas time 1996 he suffered a stroke and was removed from his retirement home to Bon Secours hospital and later to Nazareth House, Cardonald. Both Bon Secours and Sisters of Nazareth tended him lovingly with his faithful housekeeper, Agnes, until finally pneumonia necessitated his removal to the Southern General hospital. Here he died peacefully in the early afternoon of Thursday 7th August. It was his 83rd year of age and 57th of priesthood.

Canon Pat had been named a Canon in 1986, an honour he wore lightly and retired at his Golden Jubilee in 1990. He was a decent, generous man, he had his faults but remained faithful. Unlike other Cavan men he was not asked to found a second parish.

After Requiem Mass his mortal remains rest in the sacred soil of Dalbeth. Principal celebrant, with many brother priests, was Provost

Quinlan in the absence of the Cardinal, represented by Father Peter Smith, the Chancellor. The congregation was large and included many relatives from Ireland. The homily was given by Monsignor Hugh N.Boyle, a happy ending to a happy life.

May he rest in peace.

Very Rev. Denis Canon O'Connell - 9th October, 1997

Canon Denis O'Connell, retired parish priest of St. Mary's, Leslie, Glenrothes, died on 9th October, 1997, aged 79. At his funeral Mass in St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh, on 14th October the following homily was delivered by the most Reverend Keith Patrick O'Brien, Archbishop of St. Andrews and Edinburgh.

It has rightly been said that the real measure of a man is shown as he prepares for retirement and then for death.

We are told that the late Pope John XXIII calmly gave instructions about his own last hours on earth. His biographer writes: "If the phrase were not open to misunderstanding, one could say that he stage-managed his death". The instructions were found in the ritual: "ceremonial for Bishops". The late Pope simply said: "Help me to die as a Bishop or a priest should".

That was also the final wish of the late Canon O'Connell: "Help me to die as a priest should".

Retirement is never an easy thing to face for an active priest - and if ever there was an active priest it was the late Canon Denis. Having served in a great variety of parishes in our Archdiocese as well as spells as Spiritual Director of St Mary's College, Blairs and St Gabriel's Media Centre in Middlesex, the Canon realised that as the years passed and as he reached the age of 75 he should indeed think of his retirement. Following on his ministry in St. Mary's, Leslie he wrote to his parishioners on the 26th August 1992 stating: "After more than fifty years in priestly ministry, and with the age for retiral suggested by Canon Law looming over the horizon, the time has come for me to make plans for the future. September looks the most suitable time". And he went on to add that although he did indeed look forward to having more time to spend with his sister Mary and his family at home in County Cork where accommodation would be provided he would not take kindly to be completely cut off from his brother priests, from the many good friends in his parish, and other parishes where he had served, as well as good friends in other churches and in various walks of life whose support and friendship he had enjoyed over the years. Consequently he indicated that he was extremely fortunate to be moving to a home in Edinburgh - one of the three self contained flats in what he described as idyllic surroundings at Ravelston House, Ravelston Dykes, Edinburgh.

But the pastoral priest to the very end he concluded his letter with a parting message adapted from the message of Pope John Paul II leaving Ireland after his pastoral visit and wrote:

"As I leave your hospitable parish which is so dear to my heart may I express a wish that every home may remain, or begin again to be, a home of daily family prayer".

And the Canon added that children will love to lead these prayers specially arranged with young families in mind and encouraged his parishioners to try these prayers a few evenings after tea to see how easy it was!

I visited the Canon in St. Andrew's just a day before he was to visit the Western General hospital for further tests because of the increased pain which he was suffering. When I visited him following on the results of the tests he gave me the doctor's letter to read and indicated that he might not have too long in this life. He asked me as his former altar boy from St. Columba's and his former curate in St Patrick's, Kilsyth to say some words at the homily of his Requiem Mass - and then wrote to me the next day indicating the time of his letter - 5 a.m.!

The letter read:

"My very sincere thanks for your company and your time last night. Bless you! And thanks indeed also for so generously accepting my suggestion that my former altar boy and curate would himself say some few words at my requiem. Bridget (my housekeeper) will get from Father Matt Donoghue a wonderful video of a sermon he preached in Kilsyth when I was installed as a Canon. This might help! I suggested to Father Paul Capaldi that he might get in touch with the Coloman singers, our friends, to support the singing - you know how I was a great authority on choirs!". And the Canon concluded by writing:

"With renewed thanks for your kindness and close friendship over the years and if I ever get to heaven I'll get Venerable Margaret and all the friends to keep you always in their prayers. God love you, Denis".

And there was a final PS!

"Father Paul Capaldi has my suggested hymns and my suggested readings for requiem etc."

If Pope John XXIII calmly gave instructions about his last hours - so too did Canon Denis and I am sure those final words of Pope John XXIII could be applied to Canon Denis as he simply asked help to die as a Christian and as a priest should!

As so many of you know, Canon Denis was a native of Buttiven in Co. Cork and his training for the priesthood took place at St Patrick's College, Thurles. He was ordained to the priesthood on the 15th June 1941 and as I have indicated fulfilled a variety of ministries in our Archdiocese having served in Lennoxton, Methil, St Columba's, Edinburgh, St Margaret Mary's, Edinburgh, Stoneyburn, Rosewell, Kilsyth and Leslie.

I mention these general ministries of the Canon but I would like to single out three particular ministries as we think of him and pray for the happy repose of his soul at this his funeral Mass.

a) A love of the priesthood - and an encouragement of others to follow in his footsteps.

One might say that if Canon Denis had any special love it was of that priesthood of Jesus Christ into which he had been ordained. He loved his priesthood and he lived that priesthood, as he lived his whole life, to the full.

He wanted to share his priesthood and he rejoiced at the way in which he was so often able to come into contact with young boys and youths in his various ministries encouraging them along the road that leads to the priesthood .

His first appointment was to St Machan's Lennoxton and it was the parish priest there, Canon Whelan, who asked Denis to look after the boys' club. He indicated that it would not be very difficult simply take devotions for the boys every second Sunday. However Denis had different ideas and soon there was a thriving athletics club for the boys of the parish with famous athletes coming to Lennoxton from all parts of Scotland, from Ireland and indeed from further afield.

His love of sport and his high regard for young people continued when he was appointed as Spiritual Director of the junior seminary at Blairs in Aberdeen. Spiritual input was imparted from Canon Denis but there was also a tremendous amount of knowledge about athletics and all sports handed on by the enthusiastic young priest. A combination of spiritual input and enthusiasm for life in general continued to be imparted by Canon Denis throughout his life.

One must wonder just how many boys and young men were led on by the example of Canon Denis from love of sports to love of God and to love of the priesthood as they tried to imitate the Canon in every way.

b) The use of the media.

Canon Denis was one of those priests who early in his priesthood saw the great use to which the media could be put. This he did at parish level and he often recounted to me the many hours he had spent churning the handle of old Gestetners in the parishes in which he served.

I myself am aware of that great apostolate of Canon Denis from my time with him in St Patrick's, Kilsyth when parish newsletters contained a wealth of information; when regular letters to the sick were produced; and when Denis used every means at his disposal to bring news of the church to the attention of the general public.

Shortly after my arrival in Kilsyth on the same day as Canon Denis, Eric the mynah bird was placed outside the parish house on the small patch of lawn. It was not long before a very large group of school children were gathered around Eric speaking to him and encouraging him to speak to them. As the crowd increased there appeared on the horizon 'Scoop' the reporter from the local Kilsyth Chronicle. It did not take Denis long to have a press release of Eric's sayings ready for the local press along with his full curriculum vitae.

His ability to communicate to people and to get on with all kinds of people in the media was recognised by the late Bishop Agnellus Andrew and Canon Denis worked with him at St. Gabriel's media centre in Middlesex both learning from Bishop Agnellus and imparting something of his own zeal, enthusiasm and knowledge.

c) The Canon as Vice Postulator for the Beatification of the Venerable Margaret Sinclair.

It was as Vice-Postulator for the beatification and canonisation of the Venerable Margaret Sinclair that Denis's name became known to a much wider circle of people both in Scotland and indeed further afield.

The possible beatification and canonisation of this Edinburgh-born working girl was something that he desired greatly - and he encouraged tremendous pilgrimages to Rosewell when he was parish priest there and latterly to Mount Vernon and St Patrick's Church, Edinburgh where Margaret was baptised and received all of the Sacraments of Initiation.

Denis would use every means to bring knowledge of the cause of the Venerable Margaret to the attention of the people of Scotland using the media in every way possible. Throughout Scotland and in very many parts of the English speaking world the Canon became known for single-minded commitment for the cause for the canonisation of the Venerable Margaret. This commitment reached its penultimate stage when on the 6th February 1978 Pope Paul VI solemnly decreed that the servant of God, Margaret Sinclair, had in fact practised to a heroic degree the theological virtues of faith, hope and charity and also the cardinal virtues of prudence, justice, fortitude and temperance with other related virtues.

Denis continued as Vice-Postulator of the cause until ill-health and his increasing commitments elsewhere led him to resign - but his interest in the cause continued right up to his death with his great friend Sir Jimmy Saville being regularly in touch with him.

And shortly before his death, the Canon wrote a short letter of thanks to the many friends of the Margaret Sinciair pilgrimages ending with the words: "Now let us place all our prayers in God's hands - for God is good; and God knows best".

Canon Denis during the 56 years of his priestly life touched the lives of very many people. I think it is true to say that he did not really want to die - he loved life too much.

But in his last illness he acquired that peace and tranquillity which comes to so many people as they approach death. He realised that his life's work was over - that he had fought the good fight - that he had accomplished all that the good Lord had asked him to do and he was now ready to return to that Lord who had given him life and who had called him to the priesthood.

On this occasion I do express the sympathy of all in our Archdiocese, for the family and friends of the Canon.

Two sisters and two brothers of the Canon are still alive in Ireland: Mary and Kitty, Matt and Paddy, and there are many nephews and nieces and other relations who are here with us at this time.

I thank very many people - particularly Mrs. Bridget Doherty for her continued and dedicated care and devotion to the Canon especially in his last years and in the recent months of his critical illness.

Along with the Canon's family, I am most appreciative of the ongoing care of the Canon's doctor, Dr. Pope, and of all involved in his treatment in the Western General Hospital and ongoing care provided by nursing staff.

I also thank all of those in the parishes where the Canon had served for their many contacts with him in recent months, as also Canon Lawrence, Canon Peter and Father Ken, who had been companions in St Andrew's, Ravelston. I express deep sympathy also with all of those people who had loved Denis during his life on earth, especially the very many people involved as Friends of the Venerable Margaret Sinclair.

May we learn something of his own appreciation of life and be determined to expend all our energies in the service of the Lord and his people as best we can. May God grant him eternal rest as he awaits the final resurrection in the company of the Venerable Margaret Sinclair and all his family and friends.

Rev. John Ramsay - 15th October, 1997

Father John Ramsay, retired parish priest of Winchburgh, died on 15th October, 1997, aged 70. At his funeral Mass on 22nd October in St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh, the following homily was delivered by the Right Reverend Mgr. Anthony Canon McNally, V.G.

Have you noticed recently that whenever you open a Catholic newspaper or periodical there are columns of adverts offering a great variety of courses: courses on scripture, courses on theology, courses on ministry, courses on counselling, courses on spirituality? All I'm sure of excellent quality, and all sadly reminding me of something I'm already painfully aware, which is, how little I know. Well over a number of months now, unknown to me at the time, I was on a course of a different kind. It was a course on how to die, and it was given by Father John Ramsay.

Father John had known for a long time that his illness was terminal, and yet despite that he had carried on in his work as parish priest of Winchburgh. From time to time he asked me to supply for him at week-ends as he had to go into hospital for more treatment. The treatment left him weak and uncomfortable but John would return to his parish, adjust his pace because he was always eminently sensible and practical, and then carry on with his work. The time came when the responsibility was too much for him and he felt he should retire as parish priest, although he made it obvious that he would like to stay on and provide daily Mass for the people and also take some of the strain off the new parish priest. His example of resignation and willingness to accept God's will was a lesson to us all, as was his readiness to continue to serve. Only a week past Friday he told me that he was going to give the day of recollection for the retired priests of the diocese. Then he chuckled and laughed, as he used to do, and said, "Can you imagine the impact when I tell them that I am dying!" To learn how to die you must know how to live. Father John had given his life to following in the footsteps of Christ....obeying God's call to become a priest, he was now obeying God's call to come home. His life was one of obedience to the will of God.

As we know Father John had a very successful career in the army and was happy in that career, but he felt the call of God to serve as a priest, so he left his career behind. He went to the Beda College in Rome to study for the priesthood and was ordained in Rome on 14th March 1959 at the age of 33. He was appointed to Hawick, then to St. Cuthbert's; was chaplain to St. Augustine's Secondary School for four years. A short spell in Denny where he was extremely happy came to an abrupt end when he was asked to go to the Scots College in Rome as spiritual director. He was reluctant to go but went in the spirit of obedience and remained there for two years when, through ill health, he was forced to come home and worked for a year in Tomintoul in Aberdeen diocese. He was then appointed as parish priest of St. John Vianney's in Edinburgh where he remained for seven years until he went to St. Philomena's in Winchburgh and remained there until he went to Nazareth House in Lasswade just a few months ago.

Father John brought many talents and gifts to the priesthood. Those who knew him were always impressed by his personal charm and dignity. He had chosen to serve God in the Church and brought to the priesthood the same qualities of efficiency, zeal and concern for others that marked his career in the army. He was obviously a deeply spiritual man, a man of prayer, which others recognised, and so he was frequently in demand as a retreat director both to priests and lay people, up and down the country. The late Cardinal Gray appointed him as chaplain to St. Augustine's School where he worked for four years. Father John himself never realised how successful he was in the school. In a short time he was on the students' wavelength and was loved by staff and pupils. With his normal thoroughness he interviewed every pupil so that he or she would feel comfortable speaking to a priest. He even visited the homes and families of each pupil so that their parents would realise the Church's concern for the spiritual well-being of the pupils. There must be many young parents in Edinburgh to-day who owe a great deal to Father John's example and counselling.

Nowadays much is made of what we call "Ministry to Priests". Priests affirming each other and meeting socially. Father John on Sunday evenings would invite young priests to his flat, where they could relax in congenial surroundings and enjoy a meal together. Father John had a wry sense of humour which his brother priests enjoyed and he was always an excellent host. He had in fact anticipated what we now call "Ministry to Priests" long before it became fashionable in the Church.

His military skills and expertise came to the fore and were used to the full at the time of the Papal visit to Scotland. The late Cardinal Gray asked Father John to master-mind the organisation of the visit which he did in his thorough and meticulous manner with a great attention to detail.

In St. John Vianney's Father John was conscious that the patron saint of the parish was the Curé D'Ars, the model of secular priesthood, who spent much of his day in the confessional and was recognised as a skilled confessor. Father John made it a priority to encourage frequent confession and preached constantly on this theme.

From his pastoral experience he knew that parishes which had adoration and prayer before the Blessed Sacrament as a necessary part of their devotional life, always had a greater power and dignity of worship. He always started his parish confessions by exposing the Blessed Sacrament. He continued this practice in Winchburgh with equal success. This was a time when many were calling confession a "Disappearing Sacrament."

To learn how to die you must know how to live. Father John lived a full and varied priestly life....a life of service and obedience. All was in the service of the Lord. I chose to-day's Gospel because it speaks of the call of Christ; it speaks of service; it speaks of discipleship. The men Jesus asks to follow him in that Gospel, all said, "Yes, I'll follow you but first let me...." there was always a but and a me. At the end of that Gospel Jesus says, "Once the hand is laid on the plough, no-one who looks back is fit for the kingdom of God". Father John never looked back. He was steadfast and single-minded in his priesthood. And what remains now for Father John is Resurrection and eternal life. The fulfillment of the promise made by Jesus:

" He who believes in me, even though he die, he shall live".

The mystery of death and resurrection puzzles us and frightens us. It is entering the unknown. Yet we know of the death and the resurrection of Jesus - paschal death - the passing over - that is a death which leads to new life. In trying to understand resurrection and eternal life, I think it is useful to look at birth. When a child is born he or she is born into the arms and care of a mother. Without the tremendous care, gentleness and attention of a mother, a child is helpless and radically unready for life in this world. Given a mother everything changes. God is our real Mother as well as being our Father. more tender, more loving and more understanding than any earthly mother. Our death and birth into eternal life must be seen just as our birth into this life. Without a mother the trauma would be too much. Given a mother everything changes. Just as here on earth in infancy our mother was tender and patient with us, in death God is even more so. The hands that receive us in death are not the rough hands of this world. The heart that embraces us there will not let anything be too much for us. We will, children that we are, be gently and tenderly guided and coaxed into eternal life. Being born into God's arms will surely be as gentle and tender an experience as being born into our mother's arms.

But death inevitably brings sadness to those who are left behind. We are reduced, lessened, diminished by the loss of a loved one, and to Father John's family, his brother George, the wider family and friends and his brother priests, we convey our deep sympathy on your loss. It was our privilege to have known Father John. If he were here he would be asking us to pray for him, which is what we are about to do in Mass. But we pray with confidence, knowing that Father John is now in better and infinitely more gentle hands than ours. He is with the God he loved and served all his life. And we pray that he will rest in peace.

Rev. Bartholomew O'Regan - 22nd October, 1997

Father Bartholomew O'Regan, parish priest of St. Mary's, Caldercruix, died there on 22nd October, 1997, in the 67th year of his age and the 42nd of his priesthood. At the Funeral Mass in St. Mary's, on 22nd October following, prior to interment in Kinsale, Co. Cork, Ireland, the following homily was delivered by the Right Reverend Joseph Devine, Bishop of Motherwell.

It is with real sorrow that we come here today for the Requiem Mass for Father Bart O'Regan, taken so very suddenly from us last Wednesday morning. I am sure that the congregation here were stunned when the people of this parish first heard the news, not so much by the fact of his death, for he had not enjoyed robust good health for many years, but by the suddenness of his death - at least to others, but not to him. He lived with an eye on the clock for so many years, appreciative of each new day being a bonus and not counting on the next new day being assured. Yet, if that was characteristic of much of his life in the past couple of decades, nothing could have been further from the truth in his first 40 years of life.

That life began on 29th April, 1931, in Kinsale where he was born, such a very beautiful place in which first to see the light of day. He grew up there in County Cork, from where he attended the famous St. Finbar's College in the city of Cork, before moving to the senior seminary of St. Patrick's, Carlow, being then ordained from there on 10th June, 1956, for the Diocese of Motherwell.

He arrived in Scotland in the following month and spent the next nine years in St. John Bosco's, New Stevenston. That parish had only been established a decade or so earlier and he would be there for three years before the present church was opened. In addition, he would have lived in the former chapelhouse, a somewhat unusual house. But that would not have been much of a problem for him, as he would have been much more interested in the community he had been sent to serve. And they were a fine community, one that he always spoke of with much affection.

But a bigger challenge was to come after his nine years in New Stevenston, when he was transferred in early 1964 to the very large parish of Our Lady and St. Anne's in Hamilton. The parish priest of the day was in quite poor health. But that only meant that Bart was to work even harder in his pastoral responsibilities. And he was a formidable worker, caring little for himself, deeply devoted to his duties and pastoral activity. I suppose a kind of high point came for him in May, 1967, the feast of Corpus Christi of that year. And it came in Estoril, the headquarters of the Celtic team and management as they prepared for the forthcoming European Cup final later that day. Bart offered Mass for them, with many of the team and club management being present on that morning. That was remembered by the club. 25 years later, at the silver jubilee celebrations for that famous victory, I well remember Bart being a top table guest of the club in a Glasgow Hotel.

But if 1967 was a high point in his memory, 1970 was assuredly the opposite. His health, which had never given any cause for concern, was badly undermined and he spent much of the next 5 years on sick leave in Ireland. That is a very long time to be absent from the active ministry, especially at prime of life time, as Bart was barely 40 when he fell seriously ill. Nevertheless he carried out a fruitful ministry by involving himself in the Ballyfarnon area when he was well.

But he would have another reason to recall the year 1970 with little affection. In that year his parish priest in Cadzow died, Mgr. Pat McGonagle, a man much beloved of many generations of students in Blairs as both teacher and rector. The monsignor had been in poor health for all Bart's time in Cadzow. I suspect Bart worked his boots off to make up the difference in the life of the parish. It was the work of a generous spirit, but it proved to be costly to him and his future health and vitality.

I will be ever grateful to Bart for something that he did at the time of the death of Mgr. McGonagle, something that he then forgot that he had done for the next 25 years. After Mgr. McGonagle's funeral, he came upon the homily that Monsignor McGonagle had preached at the installation of Bishop Douglas in Motherwell in 1948. He put it aside in a safe place, so safe that he forgot where he had put it. It was only in his most recent period of convalescence in Ireland a couple of years ago that he chanced upon it. Somehow it had gone to Ireland during his period of convalescence in 1970, inside an old Latin breviary, as far as I remember. Then it came to light, more or less by accident. Bart sent it to me immediately, for it to be included in the Diocesan archive.

On his return to the Diocese in 1975, Bishop Thomson assigned him to the parish of St. Peter's in Hamilton. Father O'Regan could well have been forgiven in thinking that he was back to the first days of his priesthood. Like New Stevenston, it was a parish that had been founded in the early 50's, although it was not to have its new church until 1981, the year after he left there. But although his health was far from secure, again he was a great support to the parish priest of the time, Father Bernard Oates. He simply threw himself into the life of that parish without any regard for his personal concern. It was ever a great joy to him to be present for the opening of the fine new Church of St. Peter's in 1981.

By that time he had already gone to Harthill and Salsburgh as parish priest in 1980. That was a less demanding apostolate, but an apostolate that required of him to be chaplain to the prison in Shotts. He combined those roles very well, as I have good cause to remember. But in 1984 the prison population of Shotts was predicted to be over 600 in 1985 from a total population of 60 a year earlier. I quickly saw that a new arrangement had to be made. No longer could the parish priest of Harthill and Salsburgh be responsible for chaplaincy service in Shotts Prison. What was needed was a full time prison chaplain. This left me with a difficult decision to make.

While Bart had done a magnificent job in combining the roles of being the parish priest in Harthill and Salsburgh, while also being chaplain to the prison in Shotts, I could not see other than that he would be underemployed without his chaplaincy services to Shotts Prison.

So he went as parish priest to St. Gabriel's, Viewpark, in the late autumn of 1984 and remained there for a further eight years. He did well there, doing a splendid job in the refurbishment of the parish property and his constant care of the sick. I treasure the memory of Bart gathering together the more ambulant members of his sick parishoners in the hall adjacent to the church to meet me at my visits to the school for pre-confirmation meeting with the children to be confirmed.

But in the early 1990's, Father O'Regan's health was beginning to become a problem to him again. He asked me to find a less demanding apostolate for him. Readily, I agreed, not least as I could see that the former parish priest here, Canon Condon, was likely to retire in the near future. Father O'Regan was delighted to succeed your beloved Canon Condon, after his retiral, five years ago, almost to the day, on 16th of October, 1992.

Father O'Regan loved being here, in a rural community that must have reminded him of his early days as a boy and a youth. Caldercruix is a very special community, a community that greatly values its priest, however his shortcomings, by reason of age or infirmity. What Father O'Regan appreciated most, during his five years here, was the support of this parish community. He did his very best, despite still more major health difficulties a couple of years ago, to meet the pastoral requirements of being parish priest here. Given the circumstances that I have outlined earlier, that was a great achievement. But Father O'Regan would have been the very last person to have claimed that outcome. Instead, he would have been the first to say that it was due to the outstanding support and understanding of the Caldercruix community. I do not think that he would have wished me to pass any other verdict about the support that you have given him over the past, five years.

But what of him? What verdict, from a human standpoint, are we to pass on him, at this Requiem Mass, not least in the light of the readings for today? In the first, if you recall, the Lord promises a splendid eternal banquet on his holy mountain for all his faithful servants. I think that Father Regan would appreciate our choice of that reading, not least since his diet has been very limited for many years, due to heart problems. But no more. He is now freed from such limitations. Of course, the Lord made that promise for all who would be his faithful servants. From all that I know of Father O'Regan, he well qualified for that title.

Then we come to the second reading for today, a reading which speaks of the effect that we have on one another, whether for good or ill. From all that I know of him, Father O'Regan only had good effects on others in his apostolate as a priest. It could be the case that others might say otherwise. But I do not know of such others, nor am I aware of any such others. In a day and an age when the conduct of the clergy is subject to public scrutiny, not least by the tabloid press, Father O'Regan was just about the last person ever to have merited such attention.

But it is the Gospel for today that presents the sternest test for him or for all of the clergy here today. Usually, I chose the very famous passage from the sermon on the mount, the beatitudes, on the occasion of the Funeral Mass of a priest of the Diocese. But today I have chosen a passage from the Gospel of St. Luke, again a well known passage about our preparedness to face the Lord should he come most unexpectedly. I suspect that Father O'Regan thought often about that passage from the sacred scriptures. He would have done so with good reason, as I have suggested to you in an earlier part of this reflection. The passage came true for him in only one sense: the Lord did come unexpectedly. I saw him last only a few days before his own death, at the funeral of the father of one of the priests of the Diocese. He was in good form. I am sure that the last thought in his mind was that the next funeral to be attended by most of those who were there would be his own. But if the Lord came for him unexpectedly, the Lord assuredly did not find him unprepared for that coming.

For almost half his life he was a priest who knew that longevity was unlikely to be the thing for which he would be best remembered. For many years he knew that he had to have his bags packed and be ready to go. If he was able to speak to us about the most important lesson that life had taught him, then I suspect that I am giving a voice to him in what I have just said.

But he would also have wanted to say something in addition to all of us. It is this. Be very sure about how to pack those bags. The only contents that are acceptable to the Lord are the garments of the good servant, the clothes of one dressed for action and the lamplight of such a one. Such a one is a witness, someone who is dressed for action. In case you do not see my meaning: a witness is an action man, a person who does his best, despite the deal that life has dealt him. None of us can do much about the latter, the deal that life has dealt us. But all of us can do something about the former, to do our best in the circumstances of our life.

And that will be my abiding memory of Father Bartholomew O'Regan, someone who did his best, whatever the circumstances, whatever his besetting health problems. If each or any of us can have the same said about us at the end of our days, then I think that none of us can have any fear in facing the Lord when our time comes, as it came for Bart last week. Therefore, with great confidence we pray, "eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord. Let perpetual light shine upon him. May he rest in peace". Amen. (

Monsignor John Burns, one of the Vicars General of Motherwell Diocese, celebrated Mass with Bishop Joseph Devine on the occasion of the 40th Anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood on March 17th 1956 in the Scots College in Rome.

His first assignment was to the Cathedral Parish and for the next 25 years he was a Diocesan Master of Ceremonies to successive Bishops, Bishop Scanlan and Bishop Thomson. For fourteen years he was chaplain to Our Lady's High School, Motherwell as well as being Diocesan Director of Religious Education for a time.

He became parish priest in St Aidan's, Wishaw in 1983 and in 1992 moved to Bothwell to be parish priest of St Bride's.

During his time in St Aidan's he was the inspiration in establishing a joint ecumenical mission with St Mark's Church of Scotland which continues to be influential in the Coltness community.

For the past twelve years he has been a judge on the Scottish Catholic Tribunal.

St. Patrick's, Coatbridge Celebrates Centenary

Bishop Joseph Devine was principal concelebrant at the Mass to mark the Centenary of St. Patrick's Church, Coatbridge.

Seventy-six priests have served in St. Patrick's and seven of these are still working in the diocese, including the present parish priest Father Eamonn Sweeney.

The parishioners worked hard in preparation for the centenary and several new features in the Church remain as memento's of the event. A new Blessed Sacrament Chapel has been created from the old Baptistry and is opened daily for the exposition of the Blessed Sacrament. A new stained glass window of St. Patrick is also in place for the Centenary.

In the Offertory procession, parishioners carried several symbolic items like a Davy miner's lamp to mark the influence of coal mining in the Monklands area; an old parish register which recorded the first baptism in the parish on 17th May 1896; and a harp which was a reminder of the many early parishioners who fled from the great famine in Ireland to find a home in Coatbridge.

Sunday, June 2, 1996Cardinal's stark warning on Euthanasia

In response to a court decision allowing Law Hospital to withdraw feeding from patient Janet Johnston, Cardinal Winning warned that "euthanasia is being promoted as an acceptable option and almost as a moral good."

Speaking out, after the court ruling, the Cardinal called for a great mobilisation in support of life and described the push to legalise euthanasia as "one of the greatest moral issues we face today."

He said: "Morality cannot be decided by majority voting. When something is wrong in itself it doesn't become right simply because more people are inclined to indulge in it."

Archbishop Keith O'Brien joined Canon Matyczak in commemorating the 400th anniversary of the Union of Brest.

This union in 1596, between the Church of Rome and the Greek Catholic Church of Ukraine, was to be the beginning of their growth together in Christ. In the words of Archbishop O'Brien: "This should provide for us all a model and exemplar of the unity which can be achieved."

In his homily, the Archbishop spoke of recent developments: "Now that the Catholic Church in the Ukraine has begun to breathe in freedom again and to regain fully its own active role in the Church, we see a further very wonderful role for Ukrainian Catholics."

He compared today's situation with that before the union: "We currently face similar difficulties to those overcome at the Union of Brest, as we struggle to achieve union between the Church of Rome and all the other Eastern Churches."

The year 1996 gives an outstanding opportunity to Hungarians and Scots alike to look back in their history and celebrate."

Bishop moves from King's Gate to Queen's Cross

After 33 years of residence of the Bishop of Aberdeen at 156 King's Gate, Bishop Conti moved to the former Convent of the Sacred Heart at Queen's Cross.

This move was made possible through the generosity of the Society of the Sacred Heart, who having built a new Convent in the grounds at Queen's Cross, offered a lease of the former Convent to Bishop Conti. In return the Bishop undertook the renovation of the former Convent and, having restored it to its pristine condition as a residence, established his office in part of the building. The rest of the property continues to be let to the City of Aberdeen Education Authorities as St. Joseph's School.

The Bishop celebrated the first Mass in his newly established Oratory on the Feast of Our Lady of Aberdeen, July 9th.

Golden Jubilee of Monsignor John Copland

Monsignor Copland, Vicar General of the Diocese of Aberdeen, and Parish Priest of St. Thomas', Keith, celebrated his Golden Jubilee with his Bishop and fellow priests on Wednesday, June 26th.

Monsignor Copland, who the previous year had made a remarkable recovery from a serious operation, was warmly applauded by priests and people for his recovery and for his long and devoted years of service at St. Thomas' and elsewhere in the Diocese of Aberdeen.

One of Monsignor's long standing friends, Cardinal Thomas Winning, Archbishop of Glasgow, attended the event and concelebrated with the Jubilarian.

Bishop Conti in his sermon, following the instruction of the Jubilarian, spoke of the priesthood: "It is a calling", he said, "It is a gift, a service. It is also a fulfilment... the satisfaction of knowing that one is acting for Christ as his ambassador and receiving the love which the faithful give. Wherever Monsignor John has served as a priest in the Diocese, he has shown a deep sense of commitment, not only to the Catholic family, but to the whole community. He has been happy in the discharge of his priestly task, winning from all affection and respect".

Following the Mass and a photo call, there was a reception in St. Thomas' Parish Hall at which Cardinal Winning spoke, entertaining his audience with reminiscences of Monsignor from College days and speaking warmly of his affection not only for the Jubilarian, but for the Braes of Glenlivet from which he hailed. Representatives of the parish also paid tribute to him, and he was given tickets to Rome, along with a wallet of notes to assist him in the expenses of his travel and stay in the Eternal City.

In Rome Monsignor Copland joined other former members of the Scots College in the celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the return of Scots students to the College after the Second World War. Monsignor Copland was one of the last pre-war batch who had to leave the College in a hurry at the onset of War.

Bishop Logan's Submission to the Cullen Inquiry.

In his submission to the Cullen Inquiry, which was set-up after 16 children and their teacher were killed in Dunblane Primary School by a gunman on the rampage, Bishop Logan highlighted three main points which he saw as helping to achieve safety for the public:

(1). Anyone owning a gun or wishing to have a gun must prove a genuine need to be in possession of such a weapon. Personal possession of firearms is not justified otherwise.

(2) Anyone who does apply for a gun should be fully screened to ensure his or her suitability to be allowed access to lethal weapons.

(3). Detailed controls should be imposed on the sale of ammunition. Bishop Logan also stated that while he agrees that the case for the availability of firearms for the purpose of maintaining the security of human beings is relatively easily made, he also maintained that such availability must be made subject to strict conditions.

Sir Reo and Lady Stakis invited a wide range of representatives of Christian Churches in Scotland to meet the Patriarch at a Reception at the Grosvenor Hotel, Edinburgh. These representatives joined other distinguished guests at Dinner which followed this reception.

Bishop Conti of Aberdeen represented the Catholic Church and greeted the Patriarch on its behalf. In response to a request from the Bishop that he might say something about relationships between the Orthodox Church and the Holy See, the Patriarch gave a long and warm description of his meeting in Rome the previous year with the Holy Father, Pope John Paul II. He predicted that, despite all difficulties, there would be continued development of relationships between the Greek and Latin Churches.

The Patriarch, as a student, studied in Rome and had an intimate knowledge both of the City and of the Catholic Church.

Sunday July 7, 1996Church attack on culture of violence

In a hard-hitting editorial comment, Flourish, the official journal of the Archdiocese of Glasgow, added its voice to the growing clamour for a ban on guns in the wake of the Dunblane tragedy.

The editorial stated: "As the Cullen Inquiry winds its weary way to a conclusion, one fact is utterly undeniable: Thomas Hamilton was able to amass his array of pistols and semi-automatic guns, and his large quantity of ammunition, because society had licensed him to do so."

The paper went on to call for a "moral revolution", noting that "a good beginning would be made were Christians to rally against that glorification of violence which nowadays often passes as entertainment.

Golden Jubilee of First Mass at Sancta Maria Abbey, Nunraw
Thursday, 15th August, 1996

On a glorious sunny day on the Feast of the Assumption of Our Lady into heaven, the patronal feast of the Archdiocese, Archbishop Barbarito, the Apostolic Nuncio, and Archbishop Keith O'Brien joined Abbot McGlynn and the community of Nunraw along with an over-flowing congregation of friends of Nunraw from all over Scotland and the North of England thanking God in celebration for the Golden Jubilee of the first Mass celebrated at Nunraw.

The Cistercians had been welcomed to the Archdiocese of St. Andrews and Edinburgh by Archbishop Andrew Joseph McDonald and Cardinal Gray had looked on Nunraw as his second home. Due to the work camp which had been established at Nunraw to help with the construction of the new monastery, many thousands of men and women from all over Scotland were familiar with the Cistercian way of life with Archbishop O'Brien himself having been one of the "camp workers".

Two of the monks from fifty years ago, Father Michael Sherry and Father Stephen Murphy, were present at the Thanksgiving Mass. After Mass the monastery and cloisters were thrown open to the great congregation who made themselves at home in the monastery which has become so much a part of the Scottish way of life.

Annual Pilgrimage in Honour of Venerable Margaret Sinclair
Mount Vernon and St. Patrick's, Edinburgh
Sunday 1st September 1996

Archbishop O'Brien led pilgrims to the tomb of Venerable Margaret Sinclair, Mount Vernon Cemetery, Edinburgh and later preached at the Mass in St. Patrick's, Edinburgh.

He linked the dedication of Venerable Margaret Sinclair with the dedication which had been shown by the seven Cistercian monks who had been recently assassinated at their monastery in Atlas, Algeria. The same utter and complete dedication to Almighty God and to the people whom they served; their suffering prior to their death; and the joyful way in which they had all prepared for their eventual deaths and meeting with Almighty God was one thing which had united them all.

In its first year of operation the Centre attracted over 70,000 visitors who were able to sample a modern hi-tec audio visual film and gallery exhibition together with pleasant cafeteria and bookshop facilities.

Local schools make use of the audio visual facilities as part of their R.E. programme.

Installation of Tapestries Marking Centenary of St. Cuthbert's Parish, Edinburgh
Sunday 15th September 1996.

The centenary celebrations of St. Cuthbert's Church, Edinburgh continued with the installation and blessing of new tapestries. Outstanding tapestry work is already in evidence in the church due to the outstanding work accomplished by the late Canon Laurence Davison and those whom he had commissioned to accomplish the work. The tapestries behind the high altar on either side of the beautifully carved crucifix and the tapestries in the Blessed Sacrament chapel as in the Baptistry do indeed raise the "minds and hearts" of parishioners in prayer.

Two new tapestries have now been commissioned and blessed commemorating those who lost their lives in the Second World War and commemorating also the centenary of the parish and church. The Edinburgh Tapestry Company at the Dovecot studios designed the present tapestries and accomplished the work.

Cardinal's Open Letter to Media

Following the disappearance and subsequent resignation of former Bishop Roderick Wright of Argyll and The Isles, Cardinal Winning released the text of a letter he sent, as President of the Bishops' Conference of Scotland, to all media editors commenting on the coverage of the issue.

In the letter, the Cardinal defended the Church's handling of the incident pointing out: "The Church does not speak the same language as the media. We view life from a faith perspective."

He continued: "Our only fault, if any, was to refuse to feed the media's insistent appetite for every piece of confidential information, regardless of the consequences for innocent individuals and innocent families."

Putting the resignation into context, the Cardinal continued: "Celibacy is not the issue, nor is it the crisis the media would have us believe. Furthermore, one man's highly publicised indiscretions, which have become a 'crisis' for the media, do not constitute a crisis for the Church ...

"Now is the time for everyone to reflect and to consider the needs of all those whose lives have been damaged and changed forever by the recent revelations. It is especially a time for compassion and forgiveness."

50th Anniversary of the return of the Scots Students to Rome

Former students, who included Cardinal Thomas Winning and Bishop Mario Conti of Aberdeen, returned to the Scots College in Rome to mark the Anniversary of the return of the first Scots students there after the Second World War. The visit was the inspiration of Canon John Symon of Aberdeen and was organised by Father John Breslin of Motherwell. The party consisted of those who had been members of the first year to return as students as well as those who joined the College during the course of the next few years.

The Rector of the Scots College, the Very Rev. Chris McElroy and his staff, led the students of the College in welcoming the party on the evening of Thursday, October 17th, at the new Scots College in the Via Cassia.

A Banquet was given for the party by the College, during which Cardinal Winning recorded his reminiscences of those earlier days.

Mass was celebrated at the former College Chapel, Sant' Andrea degli Scozzesi, along with the present students and staff of the College. Cardinal Winning presided and Bishop Conti gave the homily. He recalled the events which led to the evacuation of the College in the early stages of the War and recorded the return of the students to a building which had in the meantime experienced various different uses and some extraordinary events, the most notable of which took place in the Via Rasella on 23rd March, 1944. A bomb exploded in a bin killing 32 German soldiers on their way to take up guard duties at the Palazzo Barberini which was the seat of the German High Command. The college was searched; 320 Italians lost their lives in the German reprisals. Less than three months later, in the words of Monsignor Clapperton, "The Allies entered Rome amid scenes of great jubilation". For two years thereafter the College was used by the C.W.L as a Club for British servicemen in Rome, until the return of the students which Monsignor Clapperton recorded in his report these words to the Bishops: "(the College) has been restored to its legitimate owners and to the purpose for which it was originally built. A new generation treads its corridors, but the old spirit remains and it is the hope and endeavour of all within its walls that its best traditions shall be preserved, and that the future history of the College shall be no whit less glorious than its past". Bishop Conti remarked "That is still our hope and endeavour... Our prayer is succinctly expressed: Ad Multos Annos!"

Thereafter the company repaired to the Scoglio Restaurant, well known to generations of students, for the celebratory meal.

Among those present at the celebrations was a group of Knights and Dames of the Holy Sepulchre who were on Pilgrimage to Rome under the leadership of Bishop Conti.

St Mary's, Hamilton Celebrates 150 Years

Cardinal Thomas Winning and Bishop Joseph Devine joined the parishioners of St Mary's, Hamilton to celebrate their 150th year of existence as the second oldest parish in the Diocese of Motherwell.

A packed congregation were joined by Hamilton M.P. and Shadow Scottish Secretary, George Robertson, South Lanarkshire Provost Sam Casserly, Council Leader Tom McCabe and Church of Scotland Minister Rev. Hugh Wylie.

Monsignor Alexander Devanny, parish priest of St Mary's and a Vicar General of Motherwell, welcomed the Cardinal and Bishop to the culmination of their year of celebration. He reminded the congregation that the Cardinal was a curate in St. Mary's from 1953 to 1954 and the occasion was a homecoming to a parish which held a dear place in his heart.

Cardinal Winning in his homily told the congregation "You belong to a glorious past but you must not sit back on the laurels of your parents and grandparents. You have to work in your own way to build up the kingdom of Heaven." He read that, like the Stone of Destiny, which was returned to Scotland the previous week, the people of St

Mary's treasure the building stones of their Church as a "sign of the past achievements and a new beginning."

Two parishioners Cissy O'Donnell aged 87 and Hugh Breen aged 89 were invested with the Bene Merenti medal by Bishop Devine, awarded by the Pope for their contribution to the history of St Mary's.

Celebration of Laying a Foundation Stone,
St. Margaret's Dunfermline
Saturday 16th November 1996.

1996 marked the 100th anniversary of the building of St. Margaret's memorial church in Dunfermline - following on as it did the recent celebrations commemorating the 900th anniversary of the death of St. Margaret.

Archbishop O'Brien led the ceremonies in St. Margaret's at which he "repositioned" the foundation stone which had never been formally laid and which had been specially cleaned and engraved for this occasion with a time capsule having been placed inside it. It was in 1893 that Archbishop Angus MacDonald, Archbishop of St Andrew's and Edinburgh in view of the approaching 800th anniversary of the death of St. Margaret proposed that a handsome memorial church be erected at Dunfermline and that the opening ceremony on 16th November 1893 be commemorated by a pilgrimage to the tomb of St. Margaret still existing in Dunfermline.

The foundation stone, blessed by Archbishop Angus MacDonald, and originally laid in one of the pillars of what was to be a quite enormous basilica, was the one which was being blessed and re-positioned by Archbishop O'Brien in the present shrine to St. Margaret in the parish church.

Requiem Mass for the Fallen at the Battle of Culloden

To mark the 250th anniversary of the Battle of Culloden and to pray for those who fell on that occasion, Requiem Mass was celebrated in St. Mary's, Inverness at which Bishop Mario Conti of Aberdeen presided, assisted by the Very Rev. Robert Canon McDonald, parish priest of St. Mary's, Father Peter Barry of St. Columba's, Culloden, and Father Gerald Livingstone, assistant priest at St. Mary's.

A large congregation gathered and included the Episcopal Bishop of Moray, Ross and Caithness, the Right Rev. Gregor McGregor, and the Rev. Colin Anderson of the Old High Church of Scotland, Inverness.

In his sermon, Bishop Conti said, "Not very far from here simple cairns record the slaughter of a particular day, 16th April, 1746, 250 years ago, when two armies faced one another on Culloden Moor. We will find no neat military cemetery. Instead we will read on scattered stones clan names, and the inscription: "The graves of the gallant highlanders who fought for Scotland and Prince Charlie are marked by the names of their clans".

Bishop Conti continued: "This is no partisan celebration and so I would wish to remark that there were clans on both sides of that divide, and gallant men went to their death in defence of their own Prince and country, of their religion and of the political order which they sought. Indeed the clan system was such that men followed their leaders, falling in behind their clan chiefs, depending on them for the loyalties to which they would hold and for which they would lay down their lives".

The Bishop concluded: "If we still think it right to stand each year before our memorials and remember the dead of the two World Wars; if we do not think it inappropriate to remember now all of whatever side who died whether as combat soldiers or innocent civilians; if we recognise the heroism and the supreme sacrifice made by those who in obedience to orders took up arms and fought; then it is surely appropriate for us in the year of the 250th anniversary of the Battle of Culloden, to remember those who died there whatever their allegiance, their faith, and their state of mind on that far-off day".

The expansion of Inverness has meant that new housing has come within a mile or so of the Battlefield, and it is the hope of the Catholic community at Culloden and Smithton to build a Church on a site already obtained in the area and which would be dedicated under the title of St. Columba, the Missionary to whom tradition ascribes the first coming of the Christian faith to the area.

Port Glasgow's 150th Anniversary

St John the Baptist Church, Port Glasgow, had a full congregation marking the 150th anniversary of the founding of the parish in a Mass of Thanksgiving. Bishop John Mone was the principal celebrant supported by Bishop Stephen McGill and several priests native of Port Glasgow and those who served in the parish.

The homily, given by present incumbent, Canon Bernard J. Canning, traced the origins of the parish or mission established in 1846 by Bishop John Murdoch, Vicar Apostolic of the Western District of Scotland. The year 1846 was one of great unrest. Various wars had taken place throughout the world, the effects of the Irish Famine which technically was not a famine at all since Ireland was exporting three and a quarter million quarters of grain with usual exports of cattle, butter, flour, eggs, poultry. Within a few months from 1845 to 1846 exports reached almost 45 million pounds sufficient to feed more than twice the population of Ireland! Yet millions were forced to emigrate with many arriving in Greenock, Port Glasgow, Paisley and elsewhere in Scotland seeking shelter, a job and the right to live. They formed most of St John the Baptist congregation in 1846.

Father John Carolan from Drogheda, Co Louth, ordained priest in 1842, was entrusted with founding the mission in 1846 and having the new church blessed in 1854 by Bishop Murdoch. In its 150 years existence St John the Baptist parish has had 15 parish priests and 44 assistants, 24,559 baptisms, 13,550 Confirmations, 5,193 marriages, 1,588 deaths (as listed for 41 years), 21 ordained priests and many who entered religious life.

At the end of Mass Bishop Mone unveiled and blessed a commemorative plaque recording the names of the priests who served St John's since 1846.

Bishop John Mone and India

Bishop John Mone of Paisley in article in The Scottish Catholic Observer of this date spoke on the conditions he experienced in his recent visit to India as president of the Scottish Catholic International Aid Fund. He found, for instance, the sound of transport "deafening, incessant, eternal" in the social conditions of the people. He said S.C.I.A.F. projects make people aware of their rights as human beings. They are learning what is acceptable and what is unacceptable.

New Ninewells Chapel Dedicated

The new chapel complex at Dundee's Ninewells Hospital was dedicated during a special service attended by representatives of the city's churches on Tuesday 28th January 1997. Father Mark Cassidy, Catholic Chaplain, led the worship together with the hospital's other regular chaplains, Rev. Robin Rae, Canon Bill McAusland and Rev. Tom Milroy. Prayers of dedication were led by Bishop Logan, Dean Robert Breadon and Dr. Harry Gibson, Moderator of the Dundee Presbytery of the Church of Scotland. The chapel replaces a previous building demolished to make room for a new accident and emergency unit. Designed for interdenominational worship, it also has features to meet the needs of ethnic communities. Representatives of other faiths were among those guests in attendance. Furnished in the style of Charles Rennie Mackintosh, the communion table, lectern and cross were made by Robin Bell, Dundee College, from the pews of the old chapel. A Celtic Cross was presented to the chapel by ecclesiastical wood carver, Ian McGuire. Carved from a single piece of teak, its patterns signify unity and hope.

Diamond Jubilee of Final Profession of Sister Nano McHardy, Rosehill, Dalkeith - Monday, 10th February, 1997.

Archbishop O'Brien joined Father Liam Healy, parish priest, and the Sisters of the Sacred Heart as they thanked God for the Diamond Jubilee of the final profession of Sister Nano McHardy.

Sister had ministered as a religious of the Sacred Heart of Jesus in various apostolates throughout her life - with the Archbishop directing thought in a special way to "the mystery of the particular affliction which you have borne for more than 40 years - namely your deafness".

The prayer of the Mass was a very simple one namely that Sister Nano would "deepen in your relationship with Almighty God at this time and may you continue to radiate the love of God to those near and far with whom you come in contact". Sister Nano has a further very great interest in the apostolate of Amnesty International through her letter-writing on behalf of those who have no voice of their own.

Glasgow Launch of Scottish Churches' Scheme 1997

St. Aloysius' at Garnethill in Glasgow, was the venue for the launch of the 1997 Year Book: "Churches to visit in Scotland 1997".

Father Kenneth Nugent, S.J., parish priest of St. Aloysius, welcomed a number of distinguished guests and a large congregation which was largely representative of the 300 Churches and other ecclesiastical buildings listed in the new handbook.

The meeting was chaired by the Primus of the Scottish Episcopal Church who was flanked by Bishop Mario Conti, a fellow Trustee of the Charity, and by Lord Lloyd-Webber who was the principal speaker.

Lord Lloyd-Webber revealed that his whole musical career had been heavily influenced by a deep-rooted love of Churches. As a child he went with his organist father to some of the great Victorian Churches of London. Many were unfortunately now closed because of vandalism. He said, "It is important we keep Churches open because many young people will be influenced by them the way I was".

More than 22 Catholic Churches were listed in the 1997 Guidebook, from the Cathedral of Our Lady of the Assumption in Aberdeen to St. Ninian's at Tynet, the oldest post-Reformation Catholic Church still in use in Scotland. Mention was also made of St. Bennet's, the Chapel attached to the home of the Archbishop of St. Andrews and Edinburgh, built by the third Marquess of Bute. All the Churches listed in the Year Book are open to visitors.

At the launch it was revealed that the Trustees are attempting to establish an Investment Fund of half a million pounds in order to secure the Scheme's long-term future. Father Nugent took the opportunity of explaining to the Congregation which had gathered in the nave of the Church, the plans for its restoration for which Historic Scotland had contributed a considerable sum.

At the end of the meeting the company was invited to view the recently renovated and reordered adjacent halls and offices, where refreshments were also laid out.

He asked women considering abortion for any reason to get in touch with the Archdiocese so that help could be provided.

Immediately the initiative became national news and dominated the headlines for several weeks. Praise for the idea came from all sources Christian and non-Christian and Papal ambassador Archbishop Barbarito hailed the Cardinal as "a hero of the Church".

Unsolicited donations poured into the Cardinal's office - passing the £100,000 barrier in just a few weeks. As a result, a special pro-life office of the archdiocese was established, under the guidance of Roseann Reddy, to co-ordinate the help provided.

Pope John Paul referred to the initiative in glowing terms during his speech to the Scottish bishops on their ad limina trip to Rome.

Sunday, 16th March, 1997Bishop of Aberdeen Preaches at St. Andrews University.

Bishop Conti was the guest Preacher at St. Salvator's, the medieval Chapel to the University of St. Andrews, on the Fifth Sunday of Lent. The Bishop who was welcomed by the Chaplain to the University, the Rev. James Walker, took as his theme, from the reading of the day: "If I be lifted up I will draw everyone to myself". "The experience of St. Paul at Corinth", said the Bishop "was that the Cross, rather than philosophy or the wisdom of the world, drew men and women to Christ". There is in man and woman a natural appetite for goodness and beauty, as St. Augustine had noted, while both he and St. Paul recognised that there was another force at work irresistibly attracting the human heart towards Christ. Jesus said, "No one can come to me unless he is drawn by the Father". Through faith and love we penetrate the mystery of the Cross. After the service there was the traditional walk to the end of the famous pier which juts out into the North Sea from beyond the Cathedral precincts, and lunch for the Bishop with several students at the Chaplain's home.

During Mass at the High Altar of St. Mary's Cathedral in Aberdeen, Bishop Conti accepted the Oblation of Diana Dimney-Macpherson, and consecrated her to the Lord. For her it was the fulfilment of many years' search for a way of life which she could sustain given her delicate health. Memorial Stone for Still-Born Children

Bishop John Mone of Paisley blessed and dedicated a memorial stone to still-born children in St. Conval's Cemetery, Barrhead, on Low Sunday. Many people present included several mothers who had suffered such a loss. They laid floral bouquets at the base of the black marble stone which referred to such children with the Scriptural text of Christ saying that they were not to suffer. Dominant on the stone is an image of the suffering Heart of Christ reaching out to those bereaved and in sorrow.

Bishop Mone comforted the parents who had lost children with the assurance that one day they would be re-united with them in the blessedness of Heaven. He thanked all who helped to make the stone possible and in particular Father Desmond J. Berry, St Conval's Cemetery convener and the cemetery workers. Scripture reading was also given. Also present was Mgr. Martin Quinlan, Provost of Glasgow Cathedral Chapter.

The stone is located about two hundred yards from the main entrance. Slabs mounted on both sides with rose bushes lead to the stone itself. Bishop Mone said that a remembrance book would shortly be provided bearing the names of such children. Their names will never be forgotten. Several infants are buried in nearby ground since the cemetery was opened in 1937, sixty years ago.

After the blessing of the stone the Mass of the Resurrection was offered in the cemetery before a large congregation with Bishop Mone as principal celebrant and fifteen priests. The homily was given by Father John H. Fitzsimmons who spoke on the significance and origin of Low Sunday, the Doubting Thomas and the Resurrection as a living proof of life hereafter.

Before the event, groups of pilgrims' gathered at designated points outside the Cathedral grounds and at a signal from the Culdee Bell made their way into the Cathedral grounds. Parishioners from the local congregations took part in the service. The Rev. Robin Patterson, Rector of the local Episcopal Church, led the congregation in an Act of Commitment based on a recent publication from the Action of Churches Together in Scotland

During his homily, Bishop Logan reminded those present that it was to Dunkeld Cathedral that Columba's body was taken, after his death on Iona, for burial at the heart of the ancient diocese. He also added, as patron of our diocese, St. Columba holds a special place in our hearts. Today, we share Columba's legacy with the other Christian churches and as we gather together, beside the ancient Cathedral, we have a unique chance to share in the unity which Columba's church once knew.

Anniversary Mass of the Sisters of Charity of St. Paul the Apostle - St. Anne's Convent Musselburgh
Monday, 19th May, 1997.

In St. Anne's Convent, Musselburgh, Archbishop O'Brien and the Provincial Superior of the Sisters of Charity of St. Paul the Apostle thanked God for the various apostolates undertaken by the Sisters in Musselburgh over the 90 years since their arrival in the town.

Further the congregation including the Sisters thanked God also following on their celebrations for the 300th Anniversary of the foundation of the Congregation of the Sisters of Chartres in France in 1696 and the 150th anniversary of the foundation of the Congregation of the Sisters of Charity of St. Paul the Apostle in 1847.

Golden Jubilee Celebrations of Canon Michael McCullagh and Canon John Rogerson
St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh
Saturday, 31st May, 1997.

A packed congregation of family, friends and former parishioners joined together with Canon Michael McCullagh and Canon John Rogerson to thank God for the Golden Jubilee of their ordinations to the priesthood fifty years before in St. Mary's Cathedral on Saturday 31st May 1997.

Archbishop O'Brien outlined something of the lives and the apostolates of the two Canons - who also welcomed to the Cathedral friends from abroad. Canon John Rogerson had married Judge Josef Azzizi and his wife Veronica in St Margaret's South Queensferry in 1973 - the Judge is now a Judge at the Court of Human Rights in Luxembourg and travelled from Vienna in Austria for the celebrations; Canon McCullagh had made friends with Monsieur Brosseau, the retired President of an Insurance Company in Canada and his wife - and they travelled from Canada to join in the celebrations.

1st June, 1997
"Celebrate Columba"

Priests and parishioners from throughout the Diocese of Dunkeld gathered with Bishop Logan in the Caird Hall on Sunday 1st June 1997 to celebrate the 1400th Anniversary of the death of St. Columba, patron saint of the Diocese. Among the invited guests were Provosts of towns within the Diocese as well as representatives from the fields of education and law as well as representatives of local and national government. Representatives from other local churches were also present for the celebrations.

The event entitled "Celebrate Columba" was directed by Father Kevin Golden, assistant priest at St. Joseph's and St. Ninian's, Dundee and consisted of two parts: the first was a pageant written by Maggie Morgan, which recalled the life of St. Columba, the second a concelebrated Mass during which a special Mass commissioned by the Diocese and written by Mgr. Gerry Fitzpatrick was sung. The singing was led by a massed choir made up of children from schools throughout the Diocese as well as adult members of various parish and Diocesan choirs under the direction of Father Kevin Golden.

The homily was given by Abbot Mark Dilworth, O.S.B. of St. Benedict's Abbey, Fort Augustus, in which he recalled the fact that those who gathered in the Caird Hall that afternoon shared the same faith as Columba which was also the faith of the universal church and like Columba they had the same duty to spread the gospel in their lives.

At the end of the Mass Bishop Logan blessed and dedicated a specially commissioned bronze statue of St. Columba, which had been sculpted by Janet Scrymgeour Wedderburn.

Golden Jubilee of Brother Kevin McInnes, Brothers of Charity , St. Aidan's, Gattonside.
Monday 2nd June 1997.

Brother Kevin McInnes welcomed a large congregation to St. Aidan's, Gattonside as he celebrated the Golden Jubilee of his profession as a Brother of Charity. Of his religious life Brother Kevin had spent thirty years in St Aidan's, Gattonside ministering to boys and young men who were in need in various ways. Archbishop O'Brien indicated that along with the Poor Servants of the Mother of God, previously in Galashiels, the Brothers of Charity could indeed be proud of the ways in which their apostolate had developed in the Borders Region and of the tremendous influence which they had as pioneers of care in the community in Scotland.
